POLICE OFFICERS STOP FLEEING MAN WITH BULLET

Officers Fire When Pursued Man Fails To Heed Command

POLICE OFFICERS WERE SUSPICIOUS

See Man Start To Run As They Are Hunting For Hold-Up Suspect

Mistaken by Officers Campbell and Golis of the city police force for a hold-up man who, a short time before, had secured $90 in the Coney Island Restaurant, 109 West Washington street, at the point of a gun, Frank Shevitz, aged 30, No. 9 Weinberg alley, was shot through the left chest when he failed to heed the command of the officers to stop, early this morning in the South Side district.

Shevitz is in the New Castle hospital, where he was taken by the police authorities. His condition is reported as favorable and his recovery expected. It is not thought that any vital organs were affected. An X-ray was taken this morning for the purpose of determining the full extent of the wound.

Shooting Occurs

The shooting occurred in the vicinity of what is known as Engine House Alley, after a chase for a considerable distance.

It was about one o'clock this morning when a well dressed yellow-skinned negro entered the Coney Island Restaurant, 109 West Washington street, operated by John Mistsos and Pete Sipiro, and held up the people in the place at the point of a gun. He secured about $90 in all. Then he made his getaway.

The police were notified at once and the following description of the negro given: yellow-skinned, five feet, eight inches in height, 160 pounds in weight, light overcoat,

British Vessel Without Rudder Adrift At Sea

No Immediate Danger Captain Reports; Will Ask To Be Towed

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—The British freighter Clearton drifting without a rudder at a point about 500 miles east of New York is in no immediate danger her captain wirelessed the independent wireless company today. The captain's message stated that he would ask the first vessel sighted to tow the the Clearton to port but would not require immediate assitance unless a storm breaks suddenly.

All broadcasting here was halted temporarily when the freighter's "S. O. S." call was received late last night.

The Clearton owned by R. Chapman and Sons left Baltimore on December 26 for Queenstown, Ireland. She is a vessel of some 5,000 gross tonnage.

Fated Hour For Swearing Off Rushing On Apace Once More

You can pick up the pieces of those New Years resolutions you dropped last February. Piece them together with the cement of good intentions, brush them off a bit, and get ready to wear them again.

Tomorrow night ,about the time the 4 to 12 turn is ready to knock off down in the hot mills, there'll be a new year knocking at your door, wanting to know what nice fresh resolutions you are carrying in stock.

Of Course You Would

Of course you have some resolutions. It's being done you know. Do you drink, smoke, chew, gamble, stay out nights, play the saxophone, use sugar on tomatoes, or wear spats? If you do gentle reader, you have reasons for resolutions.

The proper position in which to place one's self to make a set of regular resolutions is to place the arm above the head, with the elbow forming a right angle. With heels close together, say I, repeat your name in full, if you can, and then swing into the gist of the thing.

Not that you expect to keep them. Hardly anybody does. But like ankle length dresses, rolled oats, and atomizers, there is a time and place for resolutions, even though they don't stick any longer than some of these cold patches the accessory man sells you.

That time is fast approaching, and by the time another twenty four hours have winged (or is it wung) their way around the clock, you will be all ready to swear off.

Anything At All

Never mind if you have nothing to swear off. If you don't drink, smoke, or do any of the above mentioned vices, perhaps you like flowers, or you must have your tea strong. Surely you must have some pet vice. Not as vicious as your neighbor, of course, but vices are like cracked dinner plates, every one has at least one.

Then of course there are those vices you would like your neighbor to swear off. Such as borrowing the lawn mower on Saturday afternoons, leaving his motor run at midnight, while he loads his pipe, arguing with his wife when you want to sleep, or voting the Democratic ticket. You know he shouldn't, and in order to help him out you should write a list of New Years' resolutions for him.

Not that you'll keep yours, or that he will keep his. That's something like wearing red flannels, nobody does these days. But it's a popular sport, being done by the best families and all that sort of thing, and one must be up on the prevailing mode.

And of course if you have no vices, which condition you will never attain, just swear off swearing off.

There are a number of national or international resolutions that should be made. Congress should swear off making laws, for a year, except a radio law, the Prince of Wales should swear off falling off his horse, Harry Lauder should swear off farewell trips and just make regular trips, and Chicago gun men should swear off murdering officials.

After having their attention called to these little things, certainly the folks involved will take heed.

And like you or all of us, they'll forget them about January 15.

Congressional War Over Nation's Air Strength Looming

House Naval Affairs Committee Takes Up Fight For Bigger And Better Service

Opinion Prevails That Country Needs First-Class Air Defense

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—Another congressional war over the nation's air defense appeared to be in the making today.

With the solid front of the house naval affairs committee on a shipbuilding program broken by the defection of Rep. McClintic (D) of Oklahoma, other members indicated they would join forces to place the air corps on a parity with other branches of the service.

"If we have another war we will have to do just what we did in the last—tie our battleships up in a river," declared McClintic.

"The country can never be adequately prepared for war if we fail to carry out the five-year aviation program authorized last year."

McClintic divulged that he had declined to vote when the house naval affairs committee reported unanimously in favor of the Butler ten cruiser bill, and indicated that he would oppose the measure.

The Oklahoma congressman pointed to the testimony of the Woman Swimmer Crosses Delaware Among Ice Floes

Mrs. Lottie Moore Schoemmel Duplicates Washington's Feat In Bathing Suit

(International News Service)
TRENTON, N. J., Dec. 30. — George Washington crossed the Delaware in the prow of a flat bottom boat 150 years ago and now Mrs. Lottie Moore Schoemmel has done it in a bathing suit as part of the elaborate Sesqui-Centennial celebration here.

Mrs. Schoemmel, mother of two children and noted long distance swimmer, was none the worse today for her feat accomplished yesterday in crossing 1,200 feet of ice-filled water, in spite of the fact that she foreswore her customary coating of grease rather than offend the sensibilities of the many dignitaries present.

The water registered 33 degrees but Mrs. Schoemmel finished smiling in 10 minutes 30 seconds.

Job Holders At Harrisburg Are Much Disturbed

FISHER GIVES NO FORECAST AS YET

Believe Naming Of Mercantile Appraisers Will Give Key To Situation

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Pa., Dec. 30.—Although Governor-elect John S. Fisher spent three days here, local politicians today were little wiser concerning the immediate future than they were when he arrived.

The governor-elect spent most of his time working on the budget with a few hours on the details of his inauguration.

It is generally conceded that the local Baker-Beidleman machine will receive but a small measure of the recognition which it demanded and received in former years. There are more than 1,000 Dauphin county persons who hold jobs on Capitol Hill. Efforts to learn from those who will "sit in the saddle" how many can be protected were futile.

Mercantile Appraisers Key

The way in which much of the political wind will blow for the next few months will become more apparent with the appointment this week of the mercantile appraisers for the entire state. The local machine has cotrolled the Dauphin appointment for more than a decade, but today have little hopes of getting that particular plum. The appointments are made by Auditor General Edward Martin.

Efforts of local politicians to talk shop with the next governor received but little encouragement. The governor-elect also maintained a strict silence concerning the subject with newspaper men. He made it apparent that he considered the budget one of the main problems that faced him and that he intended to devote his entire attention to that subject.

Efforts of those hundreds of job holders who want to know what the future holds were given but little attention. Hiring and firing is apparently a subject that will not come up for definite disposition, especially in the minor places, until early in the new year.

Stephenson Starts Fight To Gain His Freedom From Pen

Sleigh Appears; Also Bob-Sled

Who said there were no more sleighs in the county and horses to draw them.

They are mistaken, because there appeared Wednesday at the horseshoe establishment of Will E. Marquis on Apple Way, a horse, sleigh of the vintage of other days and also the now almost forgotten sleighbells.

There was also a horse drawn bobsled, bells and all in the same district.

The recent sleet storm and ensuing fall of snow has made excellent sleighing and the few remaining sleighs and bobsleds are making their appearance as the farmers find it possible to put them into service again.

Nashville Flood Not Yet Abating; Believe Crest Near

Cumberland River Is Still Slowly Rising—Thousands Homeless

(International News Service)
NASHVILLE, Tenn., Dec. 30.—Stricken by the worst flood in its history middle Tennessee continued its relief measures among the 7,000 homeless today, meanwhile hoping and praying that the angry waters of the Cumberland river soon would subside.

A slight rise in the river, which already has inundated 250 city blocks in Nashville, was noted today, but the crest is expected tomorrow following which the flood waters will slowly recede.

Two Bridges May Be Replaced During Year Says Engineer

West Washington street bridge across the Shenango river is among the projects that the county hopes to rebuild during the coming year, according to C. H. Milholland, county engineer of Lawrence county.

Mr. Milholland said that it is hard to tell yet just what the county will be able to do, but there are several bridges that ought to be built. Of the larger bridges those that are bady in need of rebuilding are the one across the Mahoning river at Willow Grove and the West Washington street bridge across the Shenango river.

As far back as 1911, he said, they thought that they had the Washington street bridge so that it would be in good condition for years, but several times it has had to be repaired. This last year the floor became in such bad shape that something had to be done. The structure of the bridge would not permit a concrete floor and paving was not practical, so a floor of concrete and slag was placed on top of the planking. This will last for a while, but it is hoped that during the year an entire new and modern structure can be built.

Another bridge that has been a trial to the county is the structure by which the New Castle-Wampum improved road crosses the Mahoning river near Willow Grove south of Mahoningtown. The floor of this bridge has been temporarily fixed during the past month but an entire new structhre is badly needed of modern design. A new structure here would undoubtedly im-

Western "Songbird" Reaches New York For Opera Debut

Omaha Mother Termed "Oriole" Prepared For Metropolitan Debut

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—Mrs. Emma Chladek Janousek, widow and mother, of Omaha, Neb., another western "songbird", was in New York today preparing for a metropolitan debut.

Mrs. Janousek, sponsored enthusiastically by Tito Schipa of the Chicago civic opera and Amelita Galli-Curci of the Metropolitan, came at the invitation of Otto H. Kahn, chairman of the Metropolitan Opera company board of directors. Kahn heard Mrs. Janousek sing recently while he was out west and was reported impressed. An audition for Mrs. Janousek, called the "Omaha Oriole", is scheduled for some time after January 1.

Mrs. Janousek has a daughter, Mary, 12, and a son, Joseph, 15.

Shoots And Kills Wife; Then Commits Suicide

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)
PUNXSUTAWNEY, Pa., Dec. 30. —James Noll, of Brockport, near here, shot and killed his wife and then committed suicide in the Noll residence today, according to word received here from the Sheriff of Elk county.

First advices stated that authorities feared Noll may also have killed his children, but this report lacked confirmation.

Noll, highly regarded in the community where he lived, is believed to have become temporarily deranged.

Brockport is in Elk county, about 12 miles south of Ridgway and near the Jefferson county line.

The Elk county sheriff first was advised that after killing Mrs. Noll, the husband barracaded himself in the house and was holding at bay all who sought to investigate.

He asked that a detail of State police be despatched from Punxsutawney to help capture Noll, but before the police arrived the sheriff entered the house and found both husband and wife dead, according to word received here.

Two Are Killed, Several Injured In Train Wreck

Two Lehigh Valley Trainmen Meet Death Following Collision

THIRTY-FIVE CARS DERAILED

(International News Service)
WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Dec. 30. —Michael Langan, 35, Pittston fireman, and a man named Johnson, an engineer from Easton, were killed when a fast Lehigh Valley freight crashed into a standing train at Rummerfield at 6 o'clock this morning, it was reported here.

Thirty-five cars were derailed in the accident, blocking all tracks.

Several were injured but details were lacking since the mishap was on another division of the Lehigh Valley.

Rummerfield was the scene of a similar crash three years ago when an entire train crew of six was wiped out.

Langan was a junior at Lafayette college. He was working during the holiday period.

Three Appeals Will Be Heard

Zoning Appeals Board To Meet On Tuesday At City Hall

Board of Zoning Appeals will have three cases before it for consideration on Tuesday afternoon, January 4, at 3:30 o'clock, when it holds its regular monthly session.

One of the cases up for consideration is the appeal of A. E. Ault, 320 Glass street, who desires to rent his property at the place to L. W. Strauss of Canton, O., for use as a storage and smeltering plant.

The permit for the use of the building for that purpose and the making of necessary changes in the building for that use was refused for the reason that while the property is located in a light industrial area, that a smeltering plant is not permitted in such a district.

If permission is granted to make the needed changes, it is not proposed to change the exterior of the building, but in interior will be changed to meet the requirements of the business to be installed. The cost of the changes to be made are given as $6,000.

Grand Jury May Dismiss Charges Against Evangelist

District Attorney Keyes Asks For Special Grand Jury Session

SOME TESTIMONY TO BE WITHDRAWN

Perjury Of Witness At Preliminary Hearing Voids Her Testimony

By MILLER HOLLAND
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 30.—Fate of the entire Aimee Semple McPherson case was to be determined by the Los Angeles county grand jury today.

Possibility was that before nightfall the conspiracy charges against the famous woman evangelist, her mothers, Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, and Kenneth G. Ormiston, one-time radio attendant of Mrs. McPherson's Angelus Temple, might be dismissed.

District Attorney Asa Keyes announced he had asked for the grand jury hearing in order to consider the latest "confession" made by Mrs. Lorraine Wiseman-Sellaff, perpetrator of the notorious "Miss X" Carmel hoax in connection with the McPherson case.

Perjury Known

The district attorney declared that he had proof that Mrs. Wiseman perjured herself in the preliminary hearing of the McPherson case and that consequently her testimony would have to be withdrawn leaving the case with no expectation of conviction.

"No prosecutor would feel justified in placing into jeopardy defendants accused by witnesses in whose testimony no credence can be placed," Keyes said.

In her new "confession", said to have been made yesterday, Mrs. Wiseman alleged that Roland Rich Woolley, Los Angeles attorney, and his "brother", Jack Woolley, had

Bandit Is Slain, Two Wounded In Chicago Robbery

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Dec. 30.—One bandit dead, three of his pals in jail, a woman probably fatally wounded, and a police officer slightly wounded, that was the score today following an attempted holdup in the dry goods store of Nathan Bossen.

A bureau squad saw four men steal into the Bossen store. The officers followed. A score of shots were exchanged before the bandits surrendered. One of them was killed. Policeman James Hurley was shot in the wrist.

Mrs. Bossen, wife of the owner, was shot through the left lung and may die.

I don't mind the Christmas neckties with their weird and wondrous hues, I don't mind shirts of lavender and pinks and browns and blues, and I seldom raise a question, but the thing that always jars, is the insult to Havana, those iniquitous cigars. For it seems as though the women have to buy a fellow smokes and it seems as though the salesmen have to have their little jokes, so they sell them pretty boxes with cigars all wrapped in foil, and the odor as they're smoking hints at something that has spoiled. Lige some fumigant a sizzling, with an odoriferous smell, do those Christmas twofers register, your nose can always tell, and they taste oh what a flavor, like a smouldering sock or shoe, but one must declare they're splendid, weather's cool yet, twenty two.

Maker Of Peach Brandy Sent To Works 15 Months

Andy Diano Tells Of Trying To Get Rid Of Surplus Peaches On Farm

OTHER SENTENCES PASSED BY COURT

Lucy Freeman Goes To Workhouse Eight Months —Several Prisoners Paroled

Andy Diano, who admitted having been in the peach brandy manufacturing business on a farm out by Rose Point, was sentenced to pay a fine of $500 and costs and to undergo imprisonment in the Allegheny county workhouse for fifteen months, by Judge Hildebrand this morning. Diano, according to his admissions, is employed in a limestone quarry, and carried on the manufacturing business as a side line. He is married and has five children. When the officers pulled the place they secured about 40 gallons of peach brandy.

Andy said that the peaches had been given him by a man named Gardner, as they were rotting. It was the second time that Andy had been before the court, having been paroled on a former occasion.

Other sentences passed by Judge Hildebrand at this forenoon's session of court, were as follows:

Hattie Jones, colored, who entered a plea to possessing liquor, and who has been in jail six weeks, was sentenced to pay a fine of $100 and costs, and undergo imprisonment in the county jail for five months.

Lucy Freeman, colored, who pleaded guilty to possessing and selling liquor, and who has been in jail six weeks, was sentenced to pay a fine of $200 and costs and eight months to the Allegheny county workhouse.

Lavina Washington, colored, who lives in Koppel, but who was at the restaurant of her mother, Mrs. Freeman, near Wampum, when the place was raided was paroled for 3 years upon the payment of $200 to the county of Lawrence and costs.

Alberta White, colored, possessing liquor, was paroled for 3 years upon the payment of $200 and costs. It developed that White is not her right name as she is married, and her husband was presumed to be head of the house.

The case of T. J. Bartberger, for possessing liquor, was held over for further investigation.

Veto Hetzman for possessing cider was sentenced to pay $100 fine and to undergo imprisonment in the county jail for 30 days. He has already been in jail over 6 weeks.

Samuel Lavecchia, aggravated assault and battery, was paroled for 2 years upon the payment of $50 and costs. It was stated that Lavecchia had agreed to pay the doctor bill of David N. Eakin with whom he had trouble, amounting to $184 and to compensate him for loss of time to the extent of $316.

Rosie DiCerbo, for possessing liquor, was paroled for 2 years upon the payment of $200. It was claimed that the liquor found in the house belonged to a boarder.

Steve Moresky, larceny by bailee, case continued until March term, bond to be given in sum of $1500 and Moresky to report regularly to parole officer.

Nick Yellich, Bessemer, possessing liquor, paroled for 2 years upon payment of $200 for use of county.

black and white scarf and good clothing.

Man Starts to Run

About two a. m. the officers reached the Moravia street yards of the B. & O. and P. & L. E. and continued their search for the hold-up man, having previously been to the Gardner avenue yards. They were coming up through the B. & O. yards along Moravia street, when about 200 feet ahead of them, between some cars, they discovered a man.

This man saw them about the same time and started to run. The officers gave chase, believing it was the man they were looking for. He ran up through the yards, with the officers after him, then across Moravia street and up Engine House Alley, across from the New Castle Works tunnel and the Ginsberg store.

The officers called out a number of times to the man to stop, but he paid no heed, trying to speed up as he ran. The officers then shot a few times and he fell to the ground as one of the bullets hit him.

On reaching his side the officers found that he had been struck on the left side, the bullet entering the back and coming out near the center of the chest, underneath the heart.

They called police headquarters and reported what had occurred and Detective Horner and Officer Thompson responded with one of the police cars. They removed the wounded man to the New Castle hospital, where he said his name was Frank Shevitz and that he resided at No. 9 Weinberg Alley. He had a sack with him, which he told the officers he had for the purpose of getting some coal. He had become frightened, he said, when the officers discovered him and had run away.

Dr. James Crawford was called and attended the wounded man. Dr. Crawford stated this morning that Shevitz was apparently in good condition, when the nature of his wound was considered, and that apparently no vital organs had been effected and that he should recover providing there were no complications. An X-ray was taken this morning to determine the full extent of the wound.

WARD BUS LINE PROJECT IS NOT AS YET SETTLED

No Charge Indicated According To Plans At Present Time

C. C. Coulthard, superintendent New Castle division of the Pennsylvania-Ohio Electric Railway Co. is not aware of the company's future policy concerning Seventh ward busses.

According to reports in circulation several months ago the company planned to discontinue bus service and reinstate street car service on the Mahoningtown line.

It is said that the public service commission permit under which auto busses are operated will expire in the forepart of 1927.

Included in the city's proposed improvements is the resurfacing of Cedar street. If the project is completed it is believed the P.-O. will be requested to pay its proportionate share of cost.

Pennsy Railroad Calendar Features Picture Of Mills

Pennsylvania Railroad Company is distributing one of the largest and most artistic calendars this year that has been seen for some time. It measures 28 by 32 inches and the painting entitled 'The Broad Way Of Commerce" is an artistic production that one does not usually see.

Harold Brett, the noted artist, is the painter of the subject of the calender. He spent several months of the past year traveling through the parts of the country traversed by the Pennsylvania system gathering materials, ideas, sketching and photographing and getting color and setting for the canvas.

The painting shows the Broadway Limited speeding along the main line with a background of steel mills and furnaces throwing their glow of industry over the scene.

The calendars which have all been assigned are being distributed by the local ticket agent, R. L. Turner.

the Cumberland, which today reached a height of 55.7 feet. Only once before had the river ever soared above the 55-foot mark and that was in 1882.

Each time the river rises an inch, additional families are driven from their homes and property damage, already estimated at $2,500,000, increases.

Many Out of Work.

The police department has moved practically all the families out of the flooded district.

Hundreds of other persons have been forced out of work by the suspension of factories located in the flooded area.

About 1,000 others are homeless in the towns up and down the Cumberland valley. Clarksville, Celina, Cathage, Gainesboro and other valley towns were hard hit by the high waters.

A number of houses were seen floating down the river during the night.

Appeal Filed In Circuit Court

(International News Service)

CINCINNATI, O., Dec. 30.—An appeal from the decree of the Federal Court at Lexington, Ky., in which a judgment of $2,452,628.18 was awarded the Louisville and Nashville Railroad against the Western Union Telegraph company, was on file in the United States Circuit Court of Appeals here today.

The appeal, which is the latest development in lengthy litigation between the two companies in courts of thirteen states was filed by the telegraph concern.

Following the termination in 1911 by the Western Union of a contract with the railroad for a right of way along the latter's lines the railroad company instigated a suit against the telegraph company for rental of the use of the right of way, according to the records.

State Commission Refuses Permit For Grade Crossing

Criticizes Industries Locating So That New Grade Crossings Are Needed

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Pa., Dec. 30.—In refusing the application of the Pennsylvania railroad for the construction of a crossing over a state highway near Milton, the public service commission today outlined its position in regard to such work. The order of the commission also criticized industries which locate plants so as to make such projects seem necessary.

After pointing out that large sums of money are being spent in the state each year for the elimination of grade crossings, the order asserted that the commission "looks with disfavor upon the construction of additional crossings of railroad tracks, even of industrial sidings over the main traveled highways of the commonwealth, especially in rural territory."

Construction of such crossings, the order asserted, should not be permitted merely because an industrial plant chooses a location which will require such projects.

"Industries which contemplate the construction of new plants," the order said, "should do so only after fully considering all of the surrounding circumstances and conditions, among which is the settled policy of the state to look with disfavor upon the establishment of grade crossings, including industrial sidings, in rural communities and where the potential danger to the traveling public outweighs the convenience of the industry."

The application refused permission to build the spur line asked for by the C. K. Eagle Company's plant near Milton.

To The New Year-1927

Written For The New Castle News By Edward J. Davis.

We greet you as we did the years before—A question please?
What do you hold for us in store?
"Health or Wealth with Prosperity,
Or the reverse, with dire severity?"

We know, that God is good and wise
We pray, whatever plan He tries,
That proper strength to us be given,
So we be better fit—for livin'.

BRISBANE AND IMMIGRATION

ARTHUR BRISBANE is a noted editor. He often makes some striking statements and deductions in his daily column.

He has two hobbies that he rides frequently. One is the matter of developing of the aviation service of the United States. The other is that of taking the immigration restrictions off and allowing this country to be made the destination of unlimited numbers of foreigners who may desire to come to the United States.

As regards aviation, few will deny that attention should be given to developing of this branch of the national defense.

But, as to Brisbane's attitude on immigration, the great mass of Americans will not agree.

In his column yesterday, Mr. Brisbane says, for instance:

What we need is people, about twenty millions of the energetic, ambitious, best people of Europe, eager to come here.

The twenty million would absorb in twenty weeks the really good used cars and then begin buying new ones.

They would teach some Americans, who have forgotten it, the disagreeable, useful art of hard work. They would eat potatoes, wheat and other things that the farmers now produce in excess, and solve our problems.

Gentlemen of the farms, you need immigration, as a department store needs customers.

And when your congressmen vote to shut out immigration they shut out those that would consume your products here at home.

From one angle, part of what is said may be true. But, before this great body of immigrants could become consumers in a profitable sense, it would be necessary that they have employment at good wages.

To make the matter one that is easily brought home, and its significance seen, just suppose for a moment that unrestricted immigration was in effect at the present time. Where did the bulk of immigrants go some years ago, when they landed in the United States? They went to cities in the industrial centres like New Castle, Youngstown, Pittsburgh, etc.

The mere fact that thousands and millions of immigrants and workers were being landed in the United States during a year, would not create the necessity for erecting large steel mills, or industries of the type that give employment to thousands.

The result of unrestricted immigration would be, for such cities as New Castle, that there would be a large addition to the population, without a proportionate increase in the number of jobs afforded; and it doesn't take very much reasoning to figure out just what would be the result in a short time.

No, the country does not want unrestricted immigration. The restrictions that prevail at the present time, while not the best that could be arranged, probably, are an aid to the progress and prosperity of the nation, and are allowing the assimilation of the foreigners who do come, in a way that is much more desirable than under conditions as would prevail under unrestricted immigration.

Just Folks

DUTY.

Duty's not a pleasant thing,
Seldom does it dance or sing,
Jest or dream the hours away,
Pleasanter, by far, is play,
But when all is said and done,
Duty is the friendlier one.

Duty's frown but seldom lifts,
Duty never shows its gifts,
Yet the willing boy who stands,
Doing all that it commands,
Finds that he has come to know
Joys which pleasure can't bestow.

Duty brings a boy to fame,
Gives to him an honored name;
Duty holds his head erect,
Guarantees his self-respect,
Saves him from the idler's curse,
Gives him power and fills his purse.

Duty makes his muscles strong,
Lifts him high above the throng,
Has a thousand tongues to tell
Praise of him who labors well,
Pleasure makes a fairer show,
Duty pays him better, though.

Do your duty, boy, and stick!
Hold your post through thin and thick;
Hard it seems, but never mind,
Do the task to you assigned,
Duty pays these dividends:
Health and wealth, and pride and friends.

FEW THINGS IN LIFE—

Are more ridiculous than old age trying to act kittenish.

Are more inspiring than the sight of a boy making good.

Are more pathetic than the cynicism of a youth of twenty-two.

Are more refreshing than to have the other driver admit it was his fault.

Are more hopeless than the man who will not help himself.

Are more interesting than a little child that does not know it is interesting.

Are more encouraging than the appreciation of a friend you have helped.

Today's Anniversaries

1776—The Continental Congress resolved to send commissioners to the courts of Spain, Austria, Prussia and Tuscany.

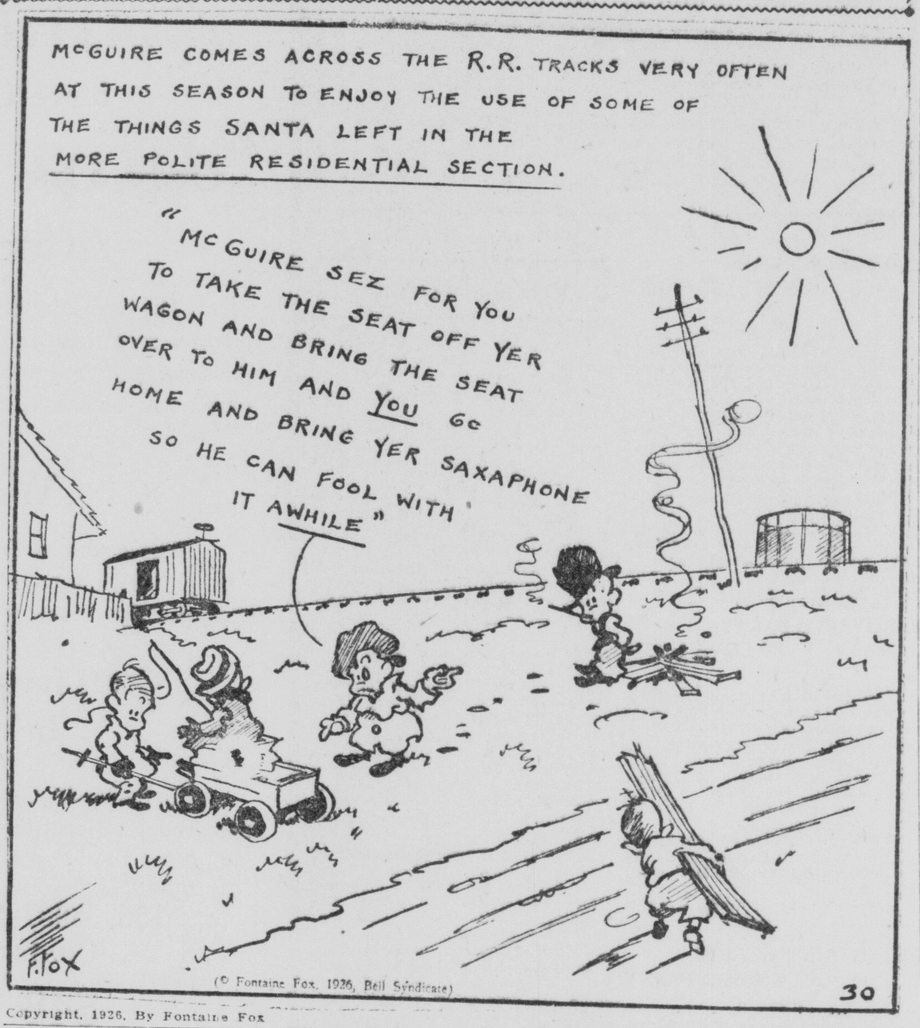

1858—Rachel Foster Avery, a noted leader in the American equal suffrage movement, born in Pittsburgh. Died in Philadelphia, Oct. 26, 1919.

1891—It was reported that the Messiah craze had broken out afresh among the Arapahoes and Cheyennes.

1894—Chauncey M. Depew was the chief speaker at a mass meeting in New York to protest against the Armenian persecutions.

1898—The new Viceroy, Lord Curzon, with his American bride, the former Miss Leiter, were received in Bombay with great ceremony.

Hints and Dints

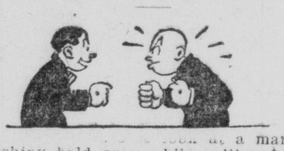

Sun sets tonight 4:41. Sun rises tomorrow 7:24.

The great trouble with most people is to keep from thinking of themselves continually, to the detriment of the other fellow. The other fellow has some rights in your thoughts and actions.

Chicago hotel men have assured the prohibition officers that they will assist them in helping to keep down liquor during the New Year celebration in that city in their hotels. It will be interesting to see how much moral support the hotel boys will give the prohibition agents.

It is said that the government is to blame for poisoned liquor that killed 16 persons in New York on Christmas. The government surely did not insist on those people licking up the hootch.

If there is another major baseball league started in this country, about all the money will go to those owning the clubs or playing on them that we have in this country. It seems to us we have enough baseball leagues and they furnish enough ornryness to go around.

... at a man's shiny bald area while calling him a polished gentleman.

In our kiddie days we used to say to the barber, "use the clippers and leave a little bit in front." But it's the girls who tell the barbers that nowadays.

Chicago police now have 14 machine guns that will fire 100 shots an hour. The innocent bystander will have less chance than ever in Chicago now when the beer runners and police get into action.

When the girls wore flesh-colored hosiery they were just breaking us in preparatory to not wearing any. We're on.

Many men need a woman to look after them, and many women have men they have to look after.

A Texas crook has confessed to killing his wife and his eight stepchildren and also to killing a woman and three children in California. It's too bad that bozo cannot be killed more than once for all those crimes.

It is getting quite a fad to shoot tigers in the jungle. Of all the places to shoot tigers! Jungles are so inconvenient with their undergrowth and everything. People do pick out just unearthly places to perform valiant deeds. What's the matter with the city?

Restful colors are to be used in the materials with which a new jail is to be built in Chicago. It is claimed the bright light-colored marble is not good for the eyes of the crooks in the coop. Being in jail will soon be easier living than being on the outside, with most everything hurting the eyes. The jails will even look good from the outside soon.

We heard quite a few people say they got just what they wanted for Christmas gifts. Personally we were surprised at what we got, and as we expected nothing, we are more than pleased with the plunder we received. Getting what one wants is quite a favor.

All dog owners in Lawrence county must take out licenses for ... than 200 have done so to date. There are over 6,000 dogs in this county. Yes, dog owners love their dogs!

Hints and Dints: Can you tell me the occupational disease from which typists suffer? Maude. We only know one or two typists, and they suffer from laziness.

If you do not have some ordinary will power, do not make any New Year resolutions. Just try to be as good as you can be with the material you have to work with.

A congressman says he is going to introduce a resolution in Congress providing for an investigation of the big baseball leagues. A big appropriation to pay the expense of it will no doubt go with it. The people of this country have to stand for a lot of rot—and a lot of it is in organized baseball.

Our idea of a handicap for the new year is starting it while in jail.

Nobody will kick on the farmer, so long as he raises enough corn to make bootleg likker for the city folks.

We read of a young lady who has been married 69 days and she claims her husband beat her on the honeymoon on every one of those days. She does not have a very good opinion of married life and naturally wants a divorce. She was careless in selecting a husband, as husbands do not go bad immediately after they are married. They often wait quite a while before they show any signs.

The latest. Girls are not wearing stockings any more, and bachelors are wearing only the tops.

THE WIDOW'S WIT

An Irish sheriff had to serve a writ on a clever young widow and, on coming to her residence, said very politely: "Madam, I have an attachment for you."

"You have?" said she blushing. "Then I may tell you that your affections are reciprocated."

It was the sheriff's turn to blush, and he explained: "You don't understand me, madam. You must proceed to court."

"Well, I know it's the year after leap year," she replied, "but I'd rather you did the courting yourself."

"Madam," he said sternly, "this is no time for fooling. The justice is waiting."

"The justice?" was the final answer. "Well, I suppose I must go, but it's all so sudden, and besides, I'd much prefer to have a priest do it."

The United States has more laws than any other nation in the world, but things would be better if we could only enforce the decalogue.

One of the biggest assets a man can have is appearing in public clean. This means face and clothes.

Among the Christmas jibes now ... about the queer neckties and cigars a woman presents to her husband. All neckties are now queer, and with the women paying homage to Lady Nicotine, many of them know just what to buy their husbands.

The Christmas savings club idea has grown from nothing to $400,000,000 a year. Just what could be accomplished if sincere effort was put back of a permanent rainy day club savings plan!

If we were starting a night club or cafe we would call it the "De-Russey Lane". That title sure would get 'em.

After all is said, what would be more poetically just than payment in counterfeit dollars for synthetic booze?

Another Christmas has passed and the European nations are still looking for a Christmas present in the form of debt cancellation. The trouble the European nations are mistaking Uncle Sam for Santa Claus. Uncle is tall and lean and Santa is short and fat. There's a great difference between the two.

It has been our observation that girls no longer hang up mistletoe; they hang out in a parked car.

Next year, according to Henry Ford, besides a surplus in products, we are to have a surplus of debts. And a lot of us have already bought ours.

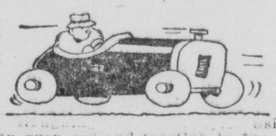

Miss Kate Colby, daughter of a former Secretary of State, has started to work and says she likes it because of the many pleasant people she meets. Just give her a job collecting past due bills and she will be the most insulting personage in the world.

The way to get the after-Christmas bargains is to read the advertisements in The News. You can get whatever you want now and The News advertising columns are the guide to bargains.

With the snow on the streets the boys and girls have their sleds out again. Again be warned, be careful, boys and girls, and auto drivers, too. Don't turn a Christmas holiday into a funeral cortege.

This is the time of year when the boss worries about the raises he is expected to give.

Incidentally, too, that chap who claims to have discovered a new stimulant that comes within the law must be planning for a happy new cheer.

THE NEW YEAR

The old year's swiftly passing
And we now must say farewell
To days well spent or wasted,
And ring out the parting knell.
We've tried to do our duty,
Though at times I fear, 'tis true,
We failed for want of courage
Good intentions to pursue.

But let us now be shaking
Old year dust from off our feet,
And take new hope and courage
As another year we greet.
And may we not be dwelling
On the things to be no more,
But bravely face the New Year
With what it may have in store.

The New Year's sure to furnish Opportunities to serve,
And meanwhile it will bring us
Such reward as we deserve.
And may it also show us
What clean lives may ever be,
For no one can be cleaner
If we will, than you and me.

Secretary Kellogg assures Senator Borah that in Nicaragua we are not taking sides with the established, shaky government, or with the victorious rebels. Our forces are only protecting American life and property.

No one questions Secretary Kellogg's absolute sincerity, and his statement is reassuring.

On the other hand, Senator Borah says:

"The revolution in Nicaragua was inspired and is directed by eight or ten persons here who are not even Nicaraguans."

It is perhaps none of the American people's business, but they would like to know who it is that pulls strings in a neighboring republic, making it necessary to send our forces there. We would not let Nicaragua land forces here. Why bully a small neighbor? We don't land forces in Russia, you'll notice.

Mussolini says, "I shall make new provinces until 1932. Then I will reward those regions which show themselves laborious, disciplined and prolific."

Three wonderful words for a nation that wishes to dominate in old Roman fashion, laborious, disciplined and prolific.

Laborious, you produce results; disciplined, you obey without question orders of a mind better than yours; prolific, you provide children to work after you have worked yourself to death.

Three better words, for America, were chosen by a former president of the Santa Fe, Mr. Ripley: organize, deputize, supervise.

As for being prolific, Mussolini would know more about that if he were an Italian woman, instead of and Italian dictator, and had had a few children on his own account.

Dr. Work, secretary of the Interior, says of the 1927 outlook: "There is not a single distress sign on the whole economic horizon."

Secretary Work doesn't sit at his desk, guessing. He travels over the country constantly, studying opportunities for national improvement. He knows conditions, and his opinion is important and encouraging.

Secretary Work is much interested in a most important gathering of which the general public knows nothing. It is the pan-Pacific conference, to be held at Honolulu in February. Twenty-five nations have accepted invitations to attend the conference, which will discuss education, rehabilitation, reclamation and recreation.

Be patient with static, when it interferes with jazz music or prize fight news coming sweetly over your radio. Professor Pupin of Columbia College, says static and "fading," enemies of radio enthusiasts, really indicate that other planets are trying to talk to us. They send powerful messages that interfere with our feeble radio, and Pupin thinks we shall understand those messages within twenty-five years.

Our age listens indifferently to that news, but no man can exaggerate its importance.

If planets millions of years older than our earth could tell us what they know, our science might jump ahead as rapidly as a child advances in knowledge after it has learned to talk and read.

We light little bonfires, heat steam, and thus obtain power. Mars might teach us to harness the power of the sun, and transmit energy without wires, which would do away with engines or fuel on flying machines, and give us unlimited power.

Wise men in Milwaukee will devote three days to discussing high questions, including this: "Can Christianity be of any practical use in changing existing conditions?"

Christianity has been changing existing conditions for about nineteen hundred years. There is no reason why it should break down now. To "love thy neighbor as thyself" trying to help him, instead of trying to rob him, will always improve conditions, if men mean it.

Hope is expressed that the cotton situation in the south may be materially cleared up through the appointment of Walker D. Hines as president of the Cotton Textile Institute, with absolute control in the management of its affairs. Mr. Hines is an eminent New York lawyer who displayed his ability in the handling of big problems while serving as director-general of the railroads of the United States during the war. He is a Southerner, born in Kentucky, and educated in that state and in Virginia. His technical knowledge of railroading was gained by many years of service as counsel for big railroad systems. But he has always been something more than the mere legal adviser. He has been a thoughtful interpreter of the political economic and constitutional problems involved in the control of the interests he has served. Hence he will come to his new task with a broad view of the problems with which he will have to deal.

Dr. Crane's Editorial

YOUR AMBITION

In Abraham Lincoln's first political speech, he said to the voters of Sangamon county:

"Every man is said to have his particular ambition. Whether this be true or not, I can say, for one, that I have no other so great as that of being truly esteemed by my fellowmen, by rendering myself worthy of their esteem."

That was Lincoln's early ambition and one which subsequent events indicate he kept throughout his life.

Contrast with that Napoleon's professed life ambition:

"I propose to make the Mediterranean a French lake!"

In the two the whole life story of each is contained—their achievements and their places in the mind of posterity.

What is your ambition?

If you didn't have to tell anyone, but just by wishing after you have gone to bed could make it come true, what one thing would you like to do most?

Would it be to make one hundred thousand dollars, put it into safe bonds, and have an income assured that would enable you to be protected from want the rest of your life?

Would it be to visit some strange or faraway country?

Would it be to be elected to a high office, to write a "best seller", or get in the movies, or what?

Would it be something that would come right away, or would it take time to achieve?

Would it be to have something, to do something, or to be something?

Just what is your particular ambition?

There are two things to remember about ambition.

Ambition of the right sort is one of the most valuable characteristics of a worthwhile man. It is nothing to be ashamed of.

"Ambition is a spirit of the world
That causes all the ebbs and flows of nations,
Keeps mankind sweet by action; without that
The world would be a filthy, settled mud."

The second idea was put into words by one of the true gentlemen of the world, Sir Philip Sidney, who, in an age of hypocrisy wore the ideals of chivalry in his heart.

"To be ambitions of true honor, of the true glory and perfection of our natures, is the very principle and incentive of virtue; but to be ambitious of titles, place, of ceremonial respects and civil pageantry, is as vain and little as the things are which we court."

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

A MEMORABLE DAY.

Wednesday December 22nd, 1926, is a date which probably the Great West will always remember. This is a date so near the day commemorating God's greatest gift to Man, that it will be easy to remember it. After six years of backing and filling, the House Committee on Irrigation and Reclamation reported the so called Swing-Johnson Bill, designed to harness the Colorado River, with the recommendation that it be passed by the House of Representatives. That recommendation is tantamount to the actual passage of the Bill through both Houses of Congress. Floor Leader Tillson told me last Summer that as long as he was Floor Leader of the House of Representatives, neither that Bill nor any other Bill should be reported favorably out of a House Committee until he was assured of its passage not only by the House but by the Senate.

While the building of a dam at Boulder, Colorado, which will involve an expenditure running into hundreds of millions before all of the detail of that great reclamation project is finished, will benefit the peoples of every contiguous State, not only the States through which the turbid Colorado flows, but the States like Utah, Nevada, New Mexico, and greatest of all, California. The one spot on the American Continent to be most benefitted will be Imperial Valley, California. It is not commonly known, but it should be brought home to the American people, that the Imperial Valley is one great asset to the Nation, and yet nearly the whole floor of that rich valley lies below sea level. Great cities are now in the making in Imperial Valley, and the celebration at El Centro on the night of December 22nd, when the wires carried the news of the Committee's action had a very deep meaning. At last the work of the pioneers of that Valley was to be made lasting, God granting that no great river disaster should occur before the ultimate completion of the Boulder Dam.

Last Summer Imperial Valley shipped nearly 20,000 car loads—refrigerator car loads, remember,—of melons, east and north and west. During the same length of time that same Valley shipped nearly 15,000 car loads of lettuce, many thousands of car loads of strawberries, and red raspberries. These have been the great products of the Valley, but corn, cotton, and the many agricultural products derived from rich and fertile soils are raised, and will be raised in increasing quantities in that Valley.

El Centro today has more than 10,000 population.—has more than doubled its population since the last census. It and the other towns of the Valley have grown with great rapidity, notwithstanding the delay of Congress to give the Valley relief.

Philip Swing, whose name appears in the title of the Bill, is the Congressman from the Valley, and he has worked with great earnestness to accomplish what was actually done on December 22nd. There are other valleys in California which will be greatly benefited. The Valley of the San Joaquin, and of the Mojave.—for Los Angeles County lies in the delta of the Mojave River. The arid wastes of Nevada and Utah, to say nothing of Arizona and New Mexico, will receive untold benefits. A Great Empire will be reclaimed. The water power of the Colorado will be harnessed, and its life giving waters will be distributed.

There is, and will be for a long time, an unsettled battle waged among the States to be benefited, as to the eventual distribution of the power and of the water. Congress, however, by the Constitution has been given unlimited authority over all the rivers and harbors of the Nation; and when Congress does speak, it speaks with authority.

The Colorado River will be harnessed.

POEMS HOVER

By CHARLES HANSON TOWNE

"THE LAST NIGHT"
By Emily Dickinson

I have already told of my passion for the poetry of this amazing American, and the more one dips into it, the more one ponders over it, the more certain one is of its rich, strange power, the more sure one becomes that Emily Dickinson had as much genius as Poe or Francis Thompson. There is no one quite like her in literature; yet she is scarcely known save to those who make a study of all poetry their joyous business. She is counted eccentric by some; to me, she is always an authoritative poet who, looking beyond this world, dipped into infinity and came back like some frail spirit to tell us what she had seen. Her lines almost frighten me at times, blest as she was with clairvoyance. Even her crude rhymes take on majesty.

The last night that she lived,
It was a common night,
Except the dying; this to us
Made nature different

We noticed smallest things,—
Things overlooked before,
By this great light upon our minds,
Italicized, as 'twere.

That others could exist
While she must finish quite,
A jealousy for her arose
So nearly infinite.

We waited while she passed;
It was a narrow time,
Too jostled were our souls to speak;
At length the notice came.

She mentioned, and forgot;
Then lightly as a reed,
Bent to the river, shivered scarce,
Consented, and was dead.

And we, we placed the hair,
And drew the head erect;
And then an awful leisure was,
Our faith to regulate.

Fugitive Seen, But Gets Away

Man Wanted For Breaking Out Of City Jail Makes Second Break

As Constable Michael Mescal of Union township, was walking along Washington street at the Kirk-Hutton and Company store about 9:30 o'clock last night, he saw warming himself in front of the gas demonstrator stove in front of that store, Albert Jennings, one of the three men who escaped from the city jail the Sunday morning before Christmas.

Knowing he was wanted for that and also for other misdeeds, Mescal placed Jennings and his companion Earl Moon of 222½ Pearson street, under arrest and started with them for the city police station.

When they arrived in front of the Brown and Hamilton store, Moon and Jennings started to tussle with the officer and in the mixup, Jennings made his getaway. Mescal managed to retain Moon and took him to the police station where he was locked up on suspicion. The city officers then joined in the hunt for Jennings, which proved unsuccessful.

Moon on being searched was found to have in his possession the card case of Terrance A. Haney of 104 West Wallace avenue, whose car was stolen December 21 and has not yet been found. Moon declined to give any information as to how it came into his possession and was not very talkative about his companion Jennings, who has escaped. He claimed that he had only met Jennings at eleven o'clock Wednesday morning and admitted that they had been together during the day and evening.

He claimed that he had been home every night but at his home it was learned that his mother had seen him for the first time in over a week on Wednesday when he had been at the home with a man who answered the description of Jennings.

Moon, who is 19 years of age, is being held pending a complete investigation by the police authorities.

Canada Introduces School Houses on Wheels

Canada is introducing "school houses on wheels" in sparsely settled districts. Where the population does not justify the erection of a school, the government sends a specially equipped railway coach with a teacher. At each stopping place, pupils come for lessons and are assigned home work for a few days or weeks and the car is moved on, to return later. Photo above shows school in session on a car.

Believe Legislature For Uniform Traffic Law Say Observers

That uniform traffic regulations for Pennsylvania cities have more than a fighting chance of getting through the forthcoming session of the legislature is evidenced, say observers, by the fact that the proposed measure is sponsored by what will be a "powerful lobby" in every sense of the word.

B. N. Hanlon of the New Castle Motor club states that the special legislative committee named December 8 by mayors who met in Harrisburg at the invitation of the Pennsylvania Motor Federation met again December 29 and discussed the proposed measure. According to a report received from the Motor Federation, a second session will likely be held before the legislature meets again January 18.

Uniform traffic rules for cities and boroughs of Pennsylvania are backed by not only the mayors and traffic engineers of Pennsylvania's 42 cities, but by the League of Boroughs, the League of Townships and the Motor Federation, which comprises eighty-six clubs and 100,000 members.

Recently Richard C. Haldeman, president of the Motor Federation, received a letter from Mayor Louis R. Franke of Johnstown, stating that it was his belief that "the time is ripe for putting an end to the confusion which is causing accidents, property loss and untold annoyance in every Pennsylvania municipality.

BOY FINANCIER

Willie wanted a dog, and his rich uncle met his hint to that effect by saying, "Well, Willie, suppose I do give you $200 for a dog. Would you spend all that for one dog, or would you buy a pretty good dog, and put the rest of the money in the savings bank?"

"Uncle," said Willie, " if you leave it to me, I'll buy two hundred one-dollar dogs."

The Rebecca riots were attacks made by men dressed as women on the unpopular toll gates in England in 1843.

Coolidge Urges Disarmament In Trenton Speech

Declares Self In Favor Of New Declaration Of Independence

ASKS AMERICA TO SET EXAMPLE

'Military Spirit" Produced Late World War, Parting Shot Of Executive

TRENTON, N. J. Dec. 30.—President Calvin Coolidge speaking before the Trenton Historical Society inspired by the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the battles of Trenton and Princeton, delivered a stirring address last night, in which he urged that the United States and other nations form a new declaration of independence that will free us from instinctive reliance upon military force entirely for protection.

In terms that were illuminated by his recent scrappings of the construction plans for three cruisers authorized by congress and postponing construction of two dirigible airships, the president proposed that the United States, without waiting on international agreement proceed single-handed at whatever sacrifice, to set the Christian example of abstention from competitive arming while other powers arm.

"I believe," Mr. Coolidge solemnly asserted as he neared the close of his celebration of Washington's victories, "I believe we are strong enough and brave enough to resist another domination of the world by the military spirit through our own independent action."

The significance of the utterance was not lost upon those who have observed the evolution of the Coolidge policy designed to check a revival of competition in naval armaments which the president is convinced was a manifestation of the "military spirit," that produced the World War.

Aged Pittsburgh Financier Dies

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Dec. 30. — Death today had ended a career of nearly three quarters of a century in Pittsburgh financial circles, attributed to Joseph Z. Wainwright, 94, who succumbed to a complication of ailments here.

The aged financier, who was the city's oldest bank executive, and was formerly interested in several brewery enterprises, was also widely known as an amateur marksman and sportsman, and was an intimate friend of the late Stephen G. Foster, noted composer.

Harbor Road Man Is Hurt In Fall On Ice

While walking on a sidewalk that was in an icy condition yesterday, James Rowbottom, aged 47 years, of New Castle R. D. No. 2, Harbor Road, slipped and fell in such a manner as to sustain a fracture of the right thigh near the hip. He was removed to the New Castle hospital, where the fracture was reduced. He is doing as well as could be expected.

Music Sent From Plane Heard 200 Miles Away

Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News

OCEANSIDE, Calif., Dec. 30. — A new record for airplane wireless telephones is thought to have been established here by Capt. F. E. Pierce of the marine aviation forces on North Island, San Diego, who broadcasted a musical program from an airplane flying over Oceanside and which was picked up as far north as Santa Barbara.

Captain Pierce, who is the radio officer of the marine aerial forces at North Island, used a wireless airplane telephone similar to those of the army air service in his experiment. The army air service claims only a 50-mile range for its wireless telephones. Captain Pierce in his experiment succeeded in broadcasting a program at least 200 miles, the average airline distance from Oceanside to Santa Barbara.

The airplane from which the experiment was conducted was piloted by Captain Harold D. Campbell, holder of the Schiff trophy awarded to him recently by President Coolidge, for flying more hours during the past year without an accident than any other flier in the service.

The army range of 50 miles is thought to be the previous maximum range of broadcasting for this type of airplane telephone. The wireless airplane telephone set used by Captain Pierce is the first one used by the marine air forces here. They have, however, been in general use by the army air service for some time.

Captain Pierce's experiment was carried out under instructions of Major Ross Rowell, commanding the marine air forces, who recently flew to San Diego from Quantico, Va., with twelve planes.

Major Rowell requested Captain Pierce to experiment with the wireless telephone with a view of adopting them for use by the marine forces. Instead of taking the telephone into the air and speaking into it and then depending on his hearers on the ground to report his success, Captain Pierce took a phonograph into the air and several pieces.

Within two or three days several persons throughout the southern California district, and many in Santa Barbara, wrote to Captain Pierce and told him they had heard his airplane concert and just what he had played into his set.

Rev. W. E. McClure Speaker At Watch Night Services

Interesting Program To Be Given In Alliance Gospel Tabernacle

For many years the Alliance Gospel Tabernacle have observed the "Watch Night" meeting and again invite the friends to share with them the closing meeting of the old year. A splendid program has been arranged.

Beginning at 8 o'clock the Young People's Society will have charge of the first hour with Rev. J. Mont Boyd, of Juniata College, as speaker. The young people of the People's Mission, on Sampson street, will share with the young people of the tabernacle in this hour and a good time will be observed.

At 9 o'clock Rev. Walter E. McClure, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, will speak on the subject, "Decisions For The New Year."

Special singing by James R. MacKenzie, baratone soloist, of our city.

The 10 o'clock hour will be a "Praise Hour" in which the Redeemed of the Lord" will be allowed to "say so" in telling what the year has meant to them. There will be two recitations and perhaps more, with the singing of gospel songs and choruses.

"A basket of fruit" by Olive Joe Mack.

"A house by the side of the road" by Neil Hughes Lambert.

The closing hour will be given to prayer, led by the pastor, H. W. Lambert, in praying for world-wide revival in the body of Christ and for revival in the world.

Butler Tax Millage Is Given Boost

BUTLER, Pa., Dec. 30.—After considerable deliberations over the 1927 city budget an ordinance was introduced by Councilman C. C. Braham to make the tax levy for the coming year 11 mills at the special session of city council which was held [illegible] municipal building on Wednesday.

[illegible]ance will be held on the table until next Monday morning at which time it will be submitted to a vote of the council who have unofficially announced that they will vote in favor of the 11-mill tax rate. The entire session was consumed by the council in going over the budget and making cuts here and there to bring it down "to the bone" as Mayor George Bob Wick stated.

Each item was chacked and each counciliman was asked if there was any possible chance to eliminate the additional one mill over that of last year. In each instance the councilman responded that they had actually arrived at the lowest figure at which they could operate their departments the coming year.

FORD GETS UNRULY

On Wednesday morning a Ford sedan belonging to a local merchant got unruly in the seventh ward and wandered out of the garage down a slight grade onto Liberty street, zigzagged south on Liberty street a half a square and finally stopped when it ran into the B. & O. driveway sign by the Mahoning Trust Company. Fortunately there were no serious results of the Ford's escapade. But it is recommended that the owner either get a rope and tie the Ford or close the garage doors.

PRAYER SERVICE

Wednesday evening, in the Mahoning Methodist church at the mid-week prayer service the pastor, Rev. J. N. Croxall spoke on the subject, "Ye are the Salt of the Earth." This was the first of a series of talks on, "Ye Are," which will be given each week at the prayer service in the church by the pastor.

Lodge Employes Nabbed In Raid At Washington, Pa.

Dry Agents Confiscate Quantity Of Home Brew; Three Are Held

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 30.—With the arrest of three employes of the Washington, Pa., lodge, Benevolent Protective Order of Elks, found on the premises, prohibition agents said, when a raid was made on the lodge rooms in which they charged they confiscated a large quantity of home brew, John D. Pennington, regional dry administrator today turned his attention to activities of other fraternal organizations in the district who maintain clubrooms.

The men, E. B. Rankin, Guy Brown and Guy Greathouse, all of Washington, were released on $1000 bond each and orders issued for the arrest of officers of the club.

Pennington indicated today that he will continue his drives against lodges in this district, planning several raids before and during the New Year's Eve celebrations.

Jeanne Intends To Dance For "Newsies'

"It has been a long time since I have danced in public but I intend to dance New Year's day for the 'newsboys" said Jeanne Fletcher former local Charleston dancer. Jeanne has been rehearsing for the past week and last night determined a "come-back."

This will be but one of the events on the program arranged for the newsies show.

The program has singers, dancers, musicians and a jazz bad and a Chinese fiddle player.

After the boys dine at the Leslie, Leff and Silverman will escort them to the Carnegie auditorium.

MODERN TURPINS USE SEDANS

Youthful Tennessee Singer To Make His Metropolitan Debut

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—Joseph Macpherson, youthful basso from Nashville, Tenn., whose premier appearance at the Metropolitan House in "Aida" was postponed last December 8 on account of illness, will make his debut this afternoon with the company as the king in "Aida."

Macpherson hailed as "the Chaliapin of the South" was a former baseball umpire before taking up the study of music. The day of his intended debut three weeks ago he was suddenly stricken with a severe cold. He is now reported completely recovered.

A host of friends from Nashville will attend Macpherson's debut.

Builders Ask Higher Wages

Fear Tie-Up In Building Program In Pittsburgh As Demand Is Made

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 30.—Fear that demands of structural steel and iron workers of Pittsburgh for a five-day week, increases in wages and other concessions would be met with refusal by employers which in turn would lead to a complete tie-up of a huge building program for the new year was expressed here today.

The structural steel and iron workers' union of Pittsburgh made the formal request to the building trades employers' association, the latter announcing that a series of conferences would be held with representatives of the workers.

Indications were that the workers' demands would not be definitely acted upon until after their present wage scale agreement expires on March 1. No estimates were available as to the number of men effected, but it was indicated that every building enterprise in the Pittsburgh district would be involved in case of a disagreement.

Coke Production Shows Decrease

Year's Lowest Level In Coke Production Reached During Past Week

(International News Service)

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., Dec. 30.—The holiday seasonal decline in activities was the principal factor in the decrease of production in coke in this region during the week International News Service's weekly survey showed today.

A decrease of 17,240 tons, bringing the total down to 113,360 tons sent production down to the year's lowest level with the exception of the week ending July 24. Furnace interests reported that 495 ovens were blown out during the week.

The market is reported to be firmer than a week ago. Spot prices have not mounted, but there were indications that if any greater demand developed higher prices would be an immediate necessity.

While some coke has been sold at $3.50, operators were said to be holding firmly, as a rule, to $4. Spot foundry was reported in light demand at $4.75 to $5.25. The bulk of first quarter contracts for 1927 have been signed, it was learned, with little competition in sight for the remainder.

Ask That Trains Be Replaced On Bessemer Line

(Special To The News)

GROVE CITY, Pa., Dec. 30.—A committee of the Grove City Commercial club with E. B. Harshaw as chairman will place before E. D. Comstock, general passenger agent of the Bessemer & Lake Erie railroad, a request that the passenger trains which were taken off last September be replaced if possible. These trains are No. 14 northbound and No. 11 southbound.

The committee consisting of Mr. Harshaw, L. E. McKay and Harry Chambers was appointed at a recent meeting of the Grove City Commercial club following discussion of the conditions existing here since the removal of the trains. Under the present arrangement no train can be had direct into Pittsburgh after 10 in the morning.

As the Bessemer railroad is the only railroad touching Grove City the situation is more serious than if there were other railroads or electric lines.

The adjusted mail service to take care of mail into Pittsburgh in the afternoon has not been found as satisfactory, as the other routing, although the passenger service is the primary intent of the committee. Mr. Harshaw stated that the matter would be taken up at once.

Large Wool Pools Are Still Unsold

MERCER, Dec. 30.—Mercer, Crawford and Erie counties have over 125,000 pounds of unsold wool according to an announcement made by John Zahniser, veteran buyer of wool in this district.

This is more wool than has been stored in this district for years. The low market price of the fall likely accounts for such a condition, yet the price has as yet failed to advance.

Singers Contract Destroyed So She Can Earn Larger Sum

By Central Press.

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—Mertopolitan Opera officials have paid rare homage to Marion Talley, youthful Kansas City singer, by volurtarily tearing up her old contract, which called for a much larger salary than is usually paid to new singers. They have given her another contract for a still larger sum in recognition of her vocal ability and her popularity. In addition, Miss Talley earns $3,000 to $3,500 a concert while on tour.

One of the few singers to have been treated in this manner is Mme' Schumann-Heink who was brought here from Germany to sing for $50 a performance. Realizing the magnificence of her voice and her appeal to audiences, Maurice Grau, impresario, placed her on a par with the stars of the company and before the end of her engagement he was paying her ten times more than he had originally agreed.

It was five or six years ago that Kansas City folk first became interested in Marion Talley. She first attracted attention when at the age of 15 she sang in "Mignon" and "The Bohemian Girl," at the Kansas City Civic Opera.

Various business men and Mrs. M. K. Powell, at that time music critic of the Kansas City Star, realizing that Marion possessed a remarkable voice, arranged for a concert for which citizens paid as high as $100 for the privilege of listening to her. Receipts amounted to $10,000 and Marion immediately departed for New York with her mother.

She was given an audition before a critical audience and her voice filled the auitorium although she was only a child. Gatti-Casazza, Metropoiitan general-director, advised that she go to Italy for study. In 1924 with her mother and sister, Marion arrived in Milan. She studied with many vocal teachers and also mastered several foreign languages so she would not be handicapped in singing operatic roles.

When Gatti-Casazza heard her again in July, 1925, he gave her a Metropolitan contract and she made her debut last February.

MARION TALLEY

Believes Traffic Rules Should Hit Automobiles First

CINCINNATI, O., Dec. 30.—Clarence O. Sherrill, city manager, states that the order of restrictions to be placed on the movement of vehicles in the streets should be as follows:

First—Private motor cars.
Second—Taxicabs.
Third—Buses.
Fourth—Street cars.

He points out that the roadway space occupied by an automobile is about 100 square feet, averaging about 50 square feet to each automobile passenger.

A street car of average size takes up about 320 square feet. With 40 passengers, this works out to eight square feet a passenger; with a peak load to about four square feet.

"This is not all the story, however," says he, "for not only does the private motor car occupy roadway space while it is carrying passengers into and out of the congested area, but also when it is parked without passengers for a longer or shorter period of time while its owner is in his office, theater, store or restaurant."

Hold Autoist For Death Of Two Coasters

LISBON, Ohio, Dec. 30.—Roy Corbin was held for manslaughter pending grand jury investigation for the deaths of his cousins, Viola Durk, aged 15, and William Cartwright, age 12, who were killed when their sled on which they were coasting crashed into Corbin's automobile on a hill near East Palestine Sunday evening.

The deaths were held as accidental by Dr. J. M. VanFossen, coroner of Columbiana county. He said, however, that the tragedy was caused by Corbin driving his car without lights, in violation of the law.

The manslaughter charge was preferred by Prosecutor Robert M. Brooks, despite the coroner's verdict.

Seek Attacker Of Young Girl

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Dec. 30.—Suffering from a fractured leg and body bruises, she told police, when a man who offered her the use of his room in a local hotel ejected her when she rejected his attentions there, Sarah Malsavage, 18, of Connellsville, Pa., was in a hospital here today while authorities sought the man accused by Miss Malsavage.

According to the girl, the man, a description of whom she was able to give police, invited her to use his room to prepare her toilet before starting in search of work. When she resented his advances, she said, he attacked her and threw her down a flight of stairs. Passersby took the girl to the hospital.

Senate Committee May Investigate Diamond Affairs

Pennsylvania Representative Announces Intention To Probe Baseball

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30—A joint investigation or organized baseball by senate and house will be sought as a result of the ousting of Tris Speaker and Ty Cobb it was indicated today.

Rep. Kelly (R.) of Pennsylvania, announced that he would confer with Senator Capper (R.) of Kansas to devise ways and means of revealing the inside workings of baseball management.

"I should like to see a joint committee named or one investigation conducted before senate and house committees sitting together" Kelly said.

"However it it appears more feasible to get action in the senate I will defer to the action of that body."

Congressional leaders generally continued to frown upon the proposed investigation.

One of the leading lawyers in the senate declared congress had no authority to act and also declared that Speaker and Cobb could no succeed in a million dollar damage suit against Judge Landis, baseball czar.

Volant Man Named Purchasing Agent

(Special To The News)

MERCER, Dec. 30.—At a meeting of the grange masters and purchasing agents of the 32 granges of Mercer county, held Tuesday afternoon at Mercer, the Central Purchasing committee for the granges of the county was elected. They are: W. M. Armstrong of Volant for 3 years, E. A. Perrine of Jackson Center for 2 years, Lloyd Enterline of Jamestown for 1 year. Mr. Enterline is treasurer of the board.

This committee is authorized to purchase for the 32 granges of Mercer county their supply of fertilizer, lime, grass seed and other needs.

Will Have Meeting At Indian Run

(Special To The News)

MERCER, Pa., December 30.—Series of 25 community meetings are being held over the county, by the Farm Bureau office. The next meeting to be held at the Indian Run grange on January 3 at 1:30 p. m. will be for the residents of New Wilmington township. The meetings are held for the purpose of arranging a program of agriculture work for the coming year. There are no special speakers, but the residents of each community are given an opportunity of expressing their own ideas.

Belief Expressed Forces Working To Fight Land Laws

(International News Service)

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 30.—Belief was expressed in official circles today that sources in Washington outside of the petroleum industry are fostering antaganism against Mexico's oil law and alien land law which go into effect Saturday.

United States Ambassador Sheffield held a two hour conference with Foreign Minister Seanz which President Calles announced that no extension would be granted for compliance with the petroleum law.

A number of important oil companies have failed to meet the Mexican law alleging it was confiscatory. Production of oil is falling off in the Tampico fields as a result and petroleum exports are declining.

Nicaraguan Policy Criticism Disturbs President Coolidge

State Department Shows Inclination To Soften Militant Attitude

Senatorial Critics Threaten Widespread Investigation Into Matter

By GEORGE R. HOLMES,
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—President Coolidge is becoming disturbed over the increasing criticism of the administration's policy in Nicaragua and Central America in general, according to indications today.

With senatorial critics threatening a widespread investigation, with Senator Borah (R) of Idaho, charging that the Nicaraguan "mess" was stirred up by "eight or ten men not Nicaraguans at all," and with the press of Europe and South America making caustic comment about "American imperialism," there appeared today a softening of the state department's hitherto militant attitude toward the whole situation.

For Protection

White House and state department spokesmen now go to great length to explain that the presence of American Marines in Nicaraguan ports and American warships in Nicaraguan water "is not intervention." They are there, it is explained, solely to "protect American lives and property" and it is said they will be withdrawn just as soon as it can be ascertained that American interests will not suffer by such withdrawal.

There is reason to believe also that Admiral Julian Latimer the American commander in Nicaragua, has been instructed to proceed cautiously in whatever steps he considers necessary for the protection of American interests, and to avoid offending Latin-American sensibilities any further.

While this may reflect no radical change in the administration's underlying policy towards Central America, it nevertheless does mark a shift to meet the tides of criticism.

When Adolfo Diaz was recognized as the legal president of Nicaragua six weeks ago, the state department let it be known that he had the "full support" of this government in restoring order, and suppressing the revolution then impending. Diaz promptly requested material aid in the form of reinforcements of American marines and warships. These were just as promptly sent. The marines now occupy several ports, including the liberal's capital, Puerto Cabezas.

Since that time, the liberal revolutionists supporting Dr. Juan Sacasa, who claims the constitutional presidency, have decisively whipped the Diaz forces in every engagement, and some Latin-American observers here believe Sascasa is headed for complete victory.

The position taken by the state department, as announced officially, now is that President Diaz must fight his own battles, without the American government "taking sides." It is a marked recession from that position taken six weeks ago when Diaz was to be accorded "full support."

WASHINGTON STEWART'S LETTER

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—A United States senator or representative can be financially as hard up as anybody else.

My attention has been attracted to this fact of late by the groans I've heard, in the capitol lobbies and the corridors of the adjacent legislative office buildings, over the scandalous exactions of the post-war Santa Claus.

It's natural to think of a member of congress, especially of the upper house, as pretty prosperous.

So a good many of them are—the ones who have independent means.

No national lawmaker ever grew rich on his salary, however. Indeed, if that's all he has to depend on, he has hard work to make ends meet.

* * *

Ten thousand a year, which is what senators and representatives alike get now, sounds like fairly good pay.

No doubt it's enough for a family to live on in comfort, even in the more expensive cities, of which Washington is one, if said family's head can limit his expenses to match his income.

This is just what a congressman finds it exceedingly difficult to do, and the more prominent he becomes, and the more useful to his constituency, the more his expenses get beyond his control.

* * *

It's all very well to say that public servants should live simply in a democracy—if that's what this is.

Nevertheless a congressman has to keep his family respectable and respectability in Washington comes high. He has a certain amount of entertaining to do, to pay off obligations he's bound to incur, if nothing else. It's a practical necessity and it's socially human, besides. That comes higher yet.

Such a congressmann isn't a high roller, mind. He simply keeps up his end in a modest way.

* * *

Then there are his office expenses.

The office itself he gets free, with a skimpy allowance for a secretary. But mighty few representatives and still fewer senators can get along with one secretary, or keep even one good one without supplementing the latter's stipend out of his own jeans.

A congressman's staff handles a raft of correspondence and runs countless errands. The wider that congressman's range of activities, the more this class of work piles up, in addition to his duties at the capitol.

* * *

Of the well-to-do-congressmen who can afford it, a majority spend more on clerical help than their own salaries amount to.

The poorer ones draft their wives and other women folk to help them out, work nights and Sundays, and some of them—naming no names—pay for the office assistants they need at the cost of staving off household bills.

Yes, there are national statesmen, and some of them with mighty high political reputations, too, whose credit doesn't stand any too well at Washington retail stores, who are nagged by collectors, who come perilously close to being known by the butcher, the baker and the dry goods merchant at the capital as sure-enough "dead beats".

* * *

Why does a congressman work himself half to death for a job that costs him much more than it pays? I've asked a number of them. They don't exactly know. Yet they do it, term after term, and when one is beaten and goes home, where a good living awaits him, as often as not he lies down on arriving there and, out of sheer disappointment, dies.

Plan Appeal For Former Grid Star To Escape Sentence

Former Kenyon College Grid Star Faces Prison Term For Manslaughter

(International News Service)

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., Dec. 30.—In a last effort to evade sentence for the death of Frank R. McLain, 27, a taxicab driver, counsel for George Anderson, 44, former Kenyon college football star and an automobile dealer, will carry the case to the Ohio supreme court, it was announced today.

McLain was shot to death in Anderson's bedroom when he answered a call on October 7, 1925. Anderson claimed the shooting was accidental.

Anderson was given two trials, each time being convicted of manslaughter. His request for a third trial was denied by the appellate court recently.

Four Slayers To Pay Penalty In Electric Chair

Plan For First Quadruple Execution In History Of Pennsylvania January 31

(International News Service)

BELLEFONTE Pa., Dec. 30.—Four men will go to the electric chair on January 31 in what is believed to be the first quadruple execution in the history of the state, it was learned at the Western penitentiary at Rockview near here today.

The men who will pay the supreme penalty are the four convicted in connection with the Oleny bank robbery in Philadelphia. Harry Bentley, William Juliana, Frank Doris and Joe Curry. Word was received here that Gov. Gifford Pinchot has signed the death warrants and the executions will take place on the scheduled date unles respites are granted.

As the pardon board does not meet again until next February it will be necessary for the governor to stay the executions with respite if the condemned men's counsel succeeds in getting the case before the board.

The annual convention will be held in Miami, Fla., in August to which the local chapter will send a delegate.

Four Injured As Pittsburgh Street Car Jumps Track

Trailer Fails To Make Curve And Crashes Into Another Street Car

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 30.—Four persons were injured, one perhaps fatally, here today when the trailer of a street car failed to take a switch as the first car rounded a curve, and crashed into a street car approaching from the opposite direction.

Anna Shock, 22, suffered concussion of the brain, and was removed from the trailer in a critical condition. Alva Luster, negress, was blinded by flying glass, and may lose her eyesight, doctors said. Two others suffered bruises.

Passengers were thrown into a panic as the trailer failed to make a turn behind its lead car and crashed into the front of another street car. Miss Shock, seated in the front of the trailer, received the full force of the fmpact.

CHARGES THEFT OF IVORY BALL

John McCoy, poolroom owner, reported to the police Wednesday morning that a new ivory billiard ball valued at about twenty dollars and some seventy-five cents in change were missing.

Officer Thomas Lynch was detailed on the case and last night arrested George Basmore, negro, who had been hired to assist the janitor at the poolroom on suspicion.

The officer also found the ball in use in the poolroom of Sam Perry on South Jefferson street and found that it had been purchased by Perry from Basmore for fifty cents.

Basmore is being held at the police station pending action by McCoy.

National Fraternity Convocation Being Held At Westminster

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Dec. 30.—For the first time in the history of Westminster a national fraternity convocation will be held on the campus starting today and lasting until Saturday morning. Delegates from the 15 chapters of Theta Upsilon Omega, national fraternity, began to arrive in town this morning. The local, or Lambda Alpha, chapter of the fraternity, with Walter Wilkison of New Castle as president, will be hosts to the national body.

Delegates from California, New England, mid-western, and eastern schools have been assigned rooms in the various fraternity houses on the campus. In all, about 125 delegates and members of the Westminster chapter will be in attendance.

Theta Upsilon Omega was founded at Bucknell college, Lewisburg, December 1922. The Westminster chapter was formally installed May 2, 1923. Chapters at Penn State, George Washington university, Temple, University of California, University of New Hampshire, Wooster Poly, Illinois, Stevens, and Miami have delegates present.

The Westminster chapter of Theta Upsilon Omega is the oldest fraternal organization on the campus. It was founded in 1854 as Cross of Hearts or Pi Rho Phi local fraternity, with five members. In 1864 the local organization became affiliated with the national body of Delta Tau Delta, but in 1874 the fraternity was ousted from the college and the national affiliation lost. The fraternity was later revived under the old name, Pi Rho Phi. In 1908 the fraternity was again disbanded, but was revived the next year and continued its secret existence until fraternities were officially recognized by the college administration in 1920.

FRANKLIN SEES NEED OF CENTRAL STATION FOR MANY BUS LINES

FRANKLIN, Pa., Dec. 30.—While Franklin's street car service is a memory, and buses ply the streets at intervals of 10 and 15 minutes, with an hourly service to Oil City and half hourly service to Rocky Grove, as well as bus service to Harrisville, Slippery Rock and New Castle, Meadville and Polk—this city is without a bus terminal.

Patrons, especially those destined for Oil City, somtimes are obliged to wait in the cold. Council brought the matter to the fore only to receive assurance that the transit company was trying to reach a satisfactory solution of the problem.

Duck Hunter Killed When Gun Being Put Into Boat Explodes

CHERRY RUN, W. Va., Dec. 30.—Wilbur Kidney, 16 years old, residing here, was shot and killed Tuesday afternoon on the Potomac river here when a gun he was placing in a boat preparatory to going duck hunting on the river exploded, the shot penetrating his side. A coroner's jury returned a verdict of accidental death.

Kenneth Keesecker, a relative, of Washington, and Kenneth McCullough of Sleepy Creek were members of the hunting party. Keesecker had walked up the river bank at the time, and McCullough, bailing water from the boat, heard the shot and saw Kidney fall in the river.

WOOD ALCOHOL SUBSTITUTE IS BEING SOUGHT

By ROBERT S. THORNBURGH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—Use of wood alcohol as a denaturing element may be discontinued whenever treasury chemists find a satisfactory substitute, it was disclosed today.

New denaturing formulae are under investigation by Dr. J. M. Doran and William V. Linder, chief chemists of the prohibition unit, with a view to possible elimination of all poisons from industrial alcohol.

While the federal law provides for wood alcohol as a basic denaturing element, Doran explained that its use is optional.

"Wood alcohol is the most satisfactory denaturant so far discovered," Doran said. "The government is investigating denaturants, seeking to discover an element more difficult to remove from alcohol by redistillation. If a non-poisonous element is found more suited to the purpose than wood alcohol, it will be used."

The law provides that the denaturing process of alcohol shall "destroy its character as a beverage and render it unfit for liquid medicinal purposes." The character and quantity of the denaturing material shall be prescribed by the treasury.

Wood alcohol is used in but five of the present 70 formulae for denaturing, according to Linder.

Dog Courier Saves 2 Alaska Miners

Crosses 3,000-Foot Mountain Pass At Night With Mercury 40 Below

LITTLE SQUAW, Alaska, Dec. 30—Carrying a scribbled note from two miners crippled by an explosion one of them blinded a Malamute dog crossed a 3,000 foot pass in the Brooks mountain range at night with the mercury 40 degrees below zero to his master's cabin here. The injured men arrived here today on a sled.

Oscar Ottersoniz, Little Squaw miner was awakened at 2:30 yesterday morning by his dog Nigger, which was whining and scratching at the door. A note on the husky's neck read: "Come. Both serious injured. Explosion."

Otterzoniz had lent the dog to J. S. Shaw and C. Dunlap who were mining on Tobin Creek beyond the Pass.

Two men hurrying over the Pass with a sled and a team of dogs found Shaw and Dunlap badly injured by th explosion of a box of detonators, Dunlap was blinded.

From the Little Squad radio station established Dec. 13 by the United States Signal Corps 90 miles north of the Arctic Circle word was sent to Fairbanks, Alaska to rush an airplane to take the patients to a hospital.

Troop A Prepares For Inspection

Officers And Men Expect To Meet Every Requirement Of U. S. Army

Troop A, 104th U. S. Cavalry is rounding into good shape for the Federal inspection to be held Thursday, January 6, at the armory on Neshannock avenue.

Drill is being held this evening and on Tuesday night, January 4, in full uniform in preparation for the coming of the army inspector. Second Lieutenant Paul W. Keely in the absence of Captain John Brettell, who is on leave, is in charge of the local unit.

On the night of the Federal inspection, the members of the troop will report at 7 p. m., in full uniform, the uniform to consist of service cap, woolen O. D. coat and breeches, leggins, shoes, web belt and spurs.

There are a number of vacancies in the troop enrollment at the present time and young men desiring some military experience can secure the same by signing enlistment papers in the organization, which will make it possible to secure the military knowledge desired and yet remain in civilian life and occupation, except in the case of need or encampment time.

Woman Auto Owner Makes Request For Special License

According to a report from Ben G. Eynon, registrar of the Motor Federation, he gets a lot of queer mail in the course of a year, but none queerer than the letter he received last week from a resident of Pittsburgh. The writer, a woman, doesn't like the license plate to be used on Pennsylvania cars this year. She therefore would like to have a special one. Her letter was as follows:

Dear Mr. Eynon:

I received the license plate for next year, but I am not at all pleased with it, because it is too large for my car. I am wondering whether I cannot have a special tag made, about half the size of the one you sent me. If so, I will be glad to place a large reading glass over it so it will at least seem large enough to those who want to read it. I should like to use an Alice blue background with cream numerals, the reverse of the color of my car; I mean I have a cream-colored car with an Alice blue trim. I hope I shall hear from you very soon.

Of course permission of this wish was not granted. And even though this may seem rather foolish for one to request a tag of this kind, it would be an off month, according to Mr. Eynon, if one were to ask for a change of license that runs in the same order as this request.

Horn Home Entered; Family Is Absent

Following the report made to the police yesterday by Mrs. Henry Horchler, 717 Blaine street, to the effect that a window was broken in the home of Silas H. Horn of 719 Blaine street and that there might have been a robbery, Officers Lynch and Nelson were detailed to make an investigation.

The officers found a front window broken and the broken window raised. The house had been ransacked, but owing to the fact that the Horn family is in Cincinnati, O., the question of whether anything had been stolen could not be determined.

The residents of the house have been informed and some member of the same is expected to arrive soon to determine the actual loss.

Poison Liquor Toll Increases

Eight Additional Deaths In New York City Bring Toll To Thirty-Four

COUNTRY TOTAL IS STAGGERING

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—Eight additional deaths attributed to poison liquor today brought New York's toll from holiday drinking up to 34.

With this record casualty list for the metropolitan districts came figures from many parts of the nation showing an astounding number of deaths from poison alcohol for the first 51 weeks of the year.

The staggering total for the country, in reports available up to today, is 2,897. Admittedly, the figure actually is much larger, as an exact total of the casualties cannot be obtained, it was said.

With this rise in liquor deaths there was considerable condemnation by educators and labor leaders of the government policy of denaturing industrial alcohol, which finds its way into the hands of the bootleggers.

Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University, denounced the government's policy in denaturing liquor. He said:

"Murder! Just plain, unadulterated murder by our glorious paternal government, is what I think of the deaths attributed to consumption of liquor manufactured from poisoned alcohol.

"Let it go. Why stop it? The more victims of government murder, the better the government, I suppose. To a government which has undertaken to do what already has been done in this tragedy of prohibition, a few more murders mean nothing."

Best available statistics on the 1926 deaths follow:

747 in New York City, including holiday toll.

808 in other parts of New York state.

1,342 for other parts of the country heard from up to today.

Bellevue hospital, Kings County hospital and many private institutions are crowded with sufferers from alcoholism, the number of whom it is almost impossible to estimate. Officials reported that 110 alcoholic cases were received in Bellevue since Christmas eve.

Takes Large Force To Look After Auto Division At Capitol

It is the belief of the Pennsylvania State Highway Department that few people know the extent of the Bureau of Motor Vehicles, they have therefore sent information to the American Automobile Association concerning this factor of Pennsylvania's government.

Pennsylvania's Bureau of Motor Vehicles operates in two three-story structures in the rear of the State Capitol in Harrisburg. It employs approximately 600 men and women. Its salary range is from $75 a month to $6,500 a year. The receipts of the division during 1926 will approximate $23,775,000. In 1927 it will reach $26,000,000. The following year it is estimated $32,000,000 will be the figure. This huge sum, under the law, is spent by the State Highway Department for road construction, maintenance, salaries and necessary expenses.

Ideal bootleg is the kind that puts you to sleep before you have time to drink enough to be fatal.

Girl Typist Succeeds As Fisher For Oysters

Miss Hilda Deannes In Her Oyster Boat
Exclusive Central Press Dispatch To New Castle News

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas., Dec. 30.—Working ten hours every day during the oyster fishing season and averaging a daily catch of 1,000 bi-valves, Miss Hilda Deannes, 22, enjoys the distinction of being the only woman oyster fisherman along the gulf coast, it is believed.

Life as a stenographer in busy offices did not appeal to Miss Deannes. Last September, therefore, she began searching for an occupation that would not only be more pleasing, but would be far removed from routine office work.

After investigating, Miss Deannes learned that approximately 120,000 oysters are harvested each day from the reefs in Corpus Christi bay and that more than 100 oyster fishermen were engaged in this occupation.

No Girl Fisherman

The only trouble about it was that all of the fishermen were men and that no one in Corpus Christi ever had heard of a girl oyster fisherman. This fact did not feaze Miss Deannes. When she found out that fishermen were earning from $6 to $10 a day she made up her mind to engage in the business.

After several days on the bay with veteran fishermen, she came back to town, drew out her small bank account and purchased a second hand skiff, the correct type of oyster tongs and knife, a heavy metal container for the oysters and a serviceable pair of overalls.

Once she had obtained her equipment, she astonished the proprietor of a fish house by marching into his office and announcing that she was going to engage in oyster fishing and would like to arrange to sell him her entire catch.

At first Miss Deannes found it awkward to handle the heavy oyster rake and difficult to gain access to the bi-valves after she had gathered them into the boat. The first day she took in 400 oysters, which netted her the meagre sum of $2.10.

Learns Tricks Of Trade

Day by day Miss Deannes became more dexterous with the rake and learned to open the oyster shells faster and faster. She ascertained the secrets and tricks of the trade, learned just how to apply the right grip and swing to the oyster rakes and the proper place to insert the heavy blade of the oyster knife to open the reluctant little oyster shells with the greatest ease and speed.

Before many weeks she was making more money than she had earned in an office. Her catch was averaging 1,000 oysters daily. She then aimed at a new mark—1,200—which is what the best fishermen gather.

Asked if she ever would take up stenographic work again, Miss Deannes declares she most certainly will not.

In the queer old days, when education was the thing, contests between schools were spelling matches.

DOUBT OVER SMITH OUTCOME DUE TO BLOCS, SAYS STEWART

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—Participants in the current winter's session of congressional "cut throat draw" have played the game close to their stomachs—as gamblers express it, thought with slightly less anatomical delicacy—thus far.

During December they were feeling one another out, sizing one anothers up, calculating their chances and counting their chips.

These preliminaries over, they may be expected to cut loose directly after the holiday recess, and wade right in to win. The sessions March 4, so the cards will have to fall fast.

* * *

Time was when the congressional game was a twosome—two big parties and gentrally no more. If a third group did, now and then, break in and draw cards for a few deals, it was in the peewee class and neither counted for much nor lasted long.

Today the whole thing is cut up into cliques—"blocs," they call 'em—so that it's hard to tell how anything will come out.

These blocs form constantly changing combinations.

The corn belt bloc, the cotton belt bloc, the wet bloc, the dry bloc, the progressive bloc, the protection bloc, the fundamentalist bloc, the liberal bloc—blocs, blocs, blocs, ever shifting and changing their arrangement and alignments.

* * *

Take, as an illustration, the case of Frank L. Smith's disputed Illinois seat in the United States senate.

Smith's a Republican. There are more Republicans than Democrats in the senate. So will Smith be seated? Not necessarily. The Republican progressive bloc intends to vote against him. Will that beat him? Not necessarily. The Democratic states' rights bloc intends to vote in his favor.

How can anybody make any sense out of such a hodge-podge?

* * *

The congressional blocs will get regularly down to their game of "cut throate draw," for blood, early in January.

The game's scheduled to stop March 4, yes. But who ever saw a loser willing to stop according to schedule? March 4 will find most of the blocs losers. That is to say, the legislation they're variously clamoring for will remain unenacted.

There's just one way in which they can keep the game going—in other words, force an extra session.

That way is to combine to prevent the administration bloc from getting President Coolidge's appropriation bills passed. If that happens, an extra session's a certainty and the game will go on indefinitely.

What's more, it's the most approved method of playing "cut throat."

The happiest land is one in which the people aren't sore enough to justify the existence of "great leaders."

STEEL WORKER IS DROWNED

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Dec. 30.—Pitched into the icy waters of the Ohio river when his boat capsized, Charles Murray, 23, was drowned and a companion, Albert Davies, 21, narrowly escaped a similar fate by swimming ashore at McKees Rocks, near here late last night, police learned today.

The two men were attempting to cross the river to reach their place of employment at the Pressed Steel Car Company plant, opposite McKees Rocks, when the boat capsized. Handicapped by darkness, Davies was unable to make any attempt to rescue Murray, he said, and the latter drowned. Police today sought the body.

Several Miles Of Snow Fences Being Erected Along Local Highways

Several miles of snow fences are being erected along the state roads in this locality by the State Highway Department.

These fences, consisting of a red picket fence about 5 feet high supported by iron posts, are erected along exposed parts of the state highway about 50 feet back from the road. The drifting snow blowing through these pickets is caused to drift into large drifts of snow between the fence and the road. Thus the drift which would otherwise cover the road to a depth often of several feet is formed before it reaches the road and the traffic is not hindered by deeply drifted snow.

Last Winter was the first time that these snow fences were used in this part of the state, said John H. Robinson, district engineer of the State Highway Department. This year over double the amount of fences are being used.

The local district, which includes most of Lawrence and Mercer Counties have ordered and are erecting 19,000 feet more than last year. Butler County has 9,000 feet more while Venango County which is in a region of deeper snow is placing 31,000 feet more than last year.

Just where to place the limited amount of fences to do the most good, Mr. Robinson said, is still in a more or less experimental stage. The men of the department are placing the fences along those portions of the road where the snow was too deep for the snow plow last year and had to be dug out by hand. They are being placed as far back from the road as it seems will drift the snow into the space between the fence and the road. This has been found to be about 50 feet from the road. As most of the storms come from the southwest, that side of the road is protected, but about once in a dozen times the wind shifts and a driving snow storm comes in from the east, then the fences on the west side of the road are useless.

In other parts of the state snow fences have been used for several years to protect roads that have been especially exposed to drifting. Snow fences have been used by railways, especially in the west to protect their tracks from being drifted full by driving storms, and it is of interest to know that hedges of trees have been planted in different parts of the world to keep sand from drifting into certain districts. The Suez Canal has long rows of trees planted about 100 feet back from the canal so that the driving sand will form into drifts before it reaches the canal. If this precaution were not taken the canal would be so filled with sand sometimes in a single day that ships could not pass through. In fact, even with this precaution there is often a delay of several hours until the dredges can dig the sand out and convey it out into deep water before the large ships can pass through.

Mr. Robinson said, that at the last meeting of the state legislature an act was passed that gave the right to erect snow fences on private property between the dates of December 1 and April 1. Authority was given to go as far as 100 feet back from the right of way and any damages occurring to the actual placing or removing of the fences would be met by the parties placing or removing the fences. Those interested in this act will find it under the year 1925, page 673, No. 334.

Thirty-Four Stolen Cars Are Recovered

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Dec. 30.—Thirty-four stolen cars were recovered during October through the efforts of the state police, the highway patrol and the checking of titles, the department of highways announced today. Nine of the cars were found abandoned along the highways.

The highway department of West Virginia today informed the local department that the use of 1926 tags of that state after December 31, will be illegal.

Says America's Gift Is Humor

Donald Ogden Stewart, Author, Suggests More Of It

NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—Humor is America's only original contribution to literature declares Donald Ogden Stewart the author who suggests more of it as a remedy for the people who take life too seriously.

"What's the use of waiting until one has accumulated his pile before he begins to play" he asks. "Let's have a lot of 'crazy fun' in acquiring the occasional and figurative 'sock in the eye.' Don't look for significance in everything."

The humorist is somewhat out of patience with the novelists who see only the dark side of American life.

"We are giving too much attention to books about people who have no fun" Stewart concludes. "My idea of an American story is one in which the guy has a good time. I started a serious novel once but the hero kept having a better time as I made things more troublesome for him so I give it up."

New Year Will See 122 Women In Legislatures

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—The New Year—the seventh of woman suffrage—will witness the seating of 122 women in the legislatures of 34 states, a survey just completed by the National League of Women Voters reveals.

Eleven of the 122 women were elected to the state senates. Republicans outnumber Democrats by more than two to one. The political division is: Republicans, 86; Democrats, 31; no party designation, 3; non-partisan, 1; independent, 1.

Connecticut leads all other states with 16 women in its 1927 law-making body. Wyoming, the first state to grant suffrage to women, will have only one woman legislator.

There are more women in the eastern legislatures than in the west. At least five or more women are members of the legislatures of the following states: Connecticut, Illinois, Maine, New Hampshire, New Jersey, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Vermont.

The 1927 record of women state legislators is slightly less than that of 1925 and 1926, when approximately 130 women answered the legislative roll-calls.

POVERTY STRICKEN, FORMER STAGE STAR FIGHTING FOR LIFE

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Dec. 30.—Frankie Bailey—ask dad, he knows—famous 25 years ago for her beautiful legs and the tights she displayed them in is fighting for life in the Pacific hospital here.

Once the highest priced actress on the American stage, Miss Bailey has been living in comparative poverty, eking out a lonely old age with the proceeds from "bits" in the movies, which were unknown when she was a star.

Stricken a week ago, Miss Bailey was taken to the Pacific hospital where she is under treatment for gallstones and a nervous breakdown.

Caused From Bladder Irritation Is Nature's Signal of "Danger Ahead."

Joseph Dow, R. 55, Trenton, N. J., says: 'My rest at night was disturbed 10 to 20 times. Lithiated Buchu has reduced this and entirely relieved me of that terrible burning and smarting. I was told there was no help for me. I want others to know and will tell or write my experience."

Lithiated Buchu is not a patent medicine. The formula is on the package. It acts on the bladder as epsom salts do on the bowels. Drives out abnormal deposits, lessens excessive acids, thereby relieving the irritation which causes "disturbed sleep." Keller Laboratory, Mechanicsburg, Ohio. Sold at all drug stores. No Speedy Sailing Indicated For Falls-Sinclair Oil Trial

Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—The Fall-Sinclair oil conspiracy trial promises less plain sailing than the Fall-Doheny trial.

For so big a case, the Fall-Doheny case moved swiftly.

The jury was secured rapidly, considering the importance of the interests at stake. The opening arguments, the examination and cross-examination of witnesses, the lawyers' summing up, the judge's charge and the jurors' deliberations occupied a matter of but about three weeks.

All authorities agree that this was jig time for a legal fight involving a vindication or the penitentiary for a former member of the senate and cabinet and a capitalist who counts his millions in hundreds.

Nobody things the Fall-Sinclair proceedings will progress so fast.

* * *

Albert B. Fall is the same old Fall, but Harry F. Sinclair is no E. L. Doheny.

Fall and Doheny were "desert rats" together, "pardners" of the long ago, friends of nearly a lifetime's standing. When Doheny, to whom $100,000 was only a trifle, asserted that he made such a loan to Fall simply to help an old "side kick" out in a financial pinch, his statement had the ring of probability, or at least of possibility.

The prosecution intends to introduce evidence, however, of a $230,000 Liberty bond transaction between Sinclair and Fall.

Odd as it may seem, it's the consensus in Washington that the Teapot Dome case, by reason of the peculiar name—"Teapot Dome"—which is associated with the Fall-Sinclair prosecution, stirred up a great deal more public interest than the Elk Hills' oil lease, which figured in the Fall-Doheny trial.

Even during the senate investigation it was suggested that the country probably would have paid very little attention to a transfer of Naval Oil Reserve No. So-and-so, whereas a Teapot Dome transfer instantly caught the eye and ear, it looked and sounded so unusual.

Elk Hills is better than Naval Reserve No. So-and-so, but Teapot Dome is still more so.

* * *

The Fall-Doheny trial has given rise to a great deal of recent talk about "oil scandals"

Senator Heflin's emphatic remarks in the upper house of congress concerning the Fall-Doheny verdict have caused yet more of it. For what he said on the senate floor Heflin can't be called to account and he was unsparing in his denunciation of everything connected with the trial—prosecution and defense, witnesses, judge and jury.

The oil cases were a somewhat somnolent issue when Fall and Doheny were put on trial. They'll be an exceedingly wakeful one at the trial of Fall and Sinclair.

Doheny, in court, was a picturesque old prospector, with a kindly side to him—at any rate, as it was easily possible to present him. Sinclair is the hard, shrewd business man, and it will be difficult to present him otherwise. How Fall appears seems likely to depend on the co-defendant he stands up with.

Here's the Way to Heal Rupture

Brother Believed Killed In War Is Found By Sister

Sister Dreams That Brother Still Lives, Found In Pittsburgh

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 30.—Because of her unswerving faith in a dream which, she said, told her that her brother officially listed as killed in action in France, was alive, Mrs. John Bougatsis, of New York, today was re-united with John Tenas, of Pittsburgh, the long lost brother.

The sister was notified at her home in Greece that Tenas had been killed in action, but later, on making her home in New York, she said, dreamed that the brother was alive. Police of the principal cities aided her in her search, with the result that Tenas was located here.

Some Of Stickers In Spelling Bee

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Dec. 30.—Tied for five rounds, two girls, champion spellers from Sangamon and McClean counties, determined the state spelling championship today by their spelling of the word "asylum".

Miss Frances E. Conrad of Williamsville, Sangamon county, spelled it correctly.

Ruth Stotler of Hudson, McLean county, was second.

Both the Sangamon and McLean county champions missed two words before the fateful "asylum" sealed the championship. The word "accordion" was missed by both. Miss Conrad missed "continuous" and Miss Stotler, "nasturtium."

Two hundred and fifty one words were spelled by the two girls.

Of the fifty-three county champions entered in the state contest, [illegible] were boys and only one of these boys survived the first round.

Special Program For Watch Night At Second Baptist

Watch night services will be conducted in the Second Baptist church Friday, New Year's eve, beginning at 7:30.

The order of service is as follows: From 7:30 to 9:30 business meeting. Election of officers for the year 1927 and the annual reports for 1926; from 9:30 to 11 o'clock a social period at which time light refreshments and coffee will be served free.

The serving committee includes Mrs. Etta Davis, Mrs. Laura Brooks and Mrs. Mary Coffey.

From 11 to 12 there will be a devotional hour. The subject will be "My Determination for 1927." Cleveland Jackson and Archie Eggleston leaders.

All Sunday services at the usual hour.

Belief Prevails Strangler-Slayer Hiding Somewhere In City Limits

(International News Service)

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Dec. 30.—That the strangler-slayer who has taken a toll of three lives here this week is in hiding somewhere in the eastern suburbs of this city is the tip on which police were working today.

Further strengthening of the theory that the fiend who took the lives of two women and an infant here by gaining access to homes [illegible] to search for a room [illegible] terrorized others [illegible] witnesses told police of having seen a man answering the description of [illegible] eleven persons to death in Pacific coast cities and one at Council Bluffs, Iowa.

A police squad this morning was detailed to watch a shack in the "East bottoms" from which several persons are said to have seen a man come and go the past several days.

Boy Scout News

Troop 18 Meeting

Troop 18 held its weekly meeting Tuesday, Dec. 28, with a large attendance of Scouts, presided over by Scoutmaster Davis. Scout Committeeman Wallace was present; also Assistant Scoutmaster Bott. Part of the meeting was spent outside on Boyles field, with races and other snow sports as pastimes.

Mr. Davis announced the winners for attendance for the past year. The first prize, a Scout axe, went to Frank Dorsey; Harold Burry received the second prize, a haversack, and the third prize, a Scout book, was given to Lee Sappington.

Troop Committeeman Wallace was appointed to get a man to speak to the troop on thrift, time and energy. Mr. Davis suggested that the troop try to make some money. Suggestions were asked for and several good ones submitted by the boys.

The individual contests are to start soon and Scoutmaster Davis told the boys of the different requirements necessary to receive points.

The next meeting will be held on Tuesday, Jan. 3, 1927. Each Scout is requested to bring his registration at this meeting.

"King" Benjamin To Sign Bond For Court Appearance

Trial Of Former House Of David Leader Set For Early In February

(International News Service)

BENTON HARBOR, Mich., Dec. 30—"King" Benjamin Purnell leader of the House of David cult, again today was to be brought into court on a stretcher to be bound over for trial to the circuit court on criminal assault charges of Mrs. Bessie May Woodworth, erstwhile girl member of the colony.

This trial will be heard probably early in February before Circuit Judge Edward White. Purnell is expected to sign a new peace bond today before Justice of the Peace Ara Weldon before whom Mrs. Woodworth made sensational charges at Purnell's preliminary hearing last week.

On January 12 Purnell again will go before Justice of the Peace Elizabeth Forhan to be bound over for trial on similar charges brought by Mrs. Gladys Bamford Rubel and her sister Mrs. Ruth Bamford Reed of Detroit.

Purnell is reported at the House of David today to be still too weak to walk but his attorneys insisted they are certain they can defeat his girl enemies and will seek no court delay.

Postpone Hearing In Suit Against Rubber Company

(International News Service)

TOLEDO, O., Dec. 30.—A postponement in the stock control action involving common shares of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber company until January 10, has been announced by Federal Judge John M. Killits.

The suit was brought by Mrs. G. Benedict, of New York, against F. E. Seiberling and a group of his associates, who she alleges have formed a common stock voting trust for fraudulent purposes.

A temporary restraining order, depriving the defendants of exercising powers they are said to have weilded here-to-fore in the stock, has been extended to January 12 when arguments will be heard on a motion to make the injunction permanent.

Plan Watch Night Meeting In Central Christian Church

An unusually attractive program has been arranged for the watch night services to be held Friday evening December 31 in the Central Christian church.

The services will open at 9 p. m. with a song and devotional meeting and will continue until 10 o'clock. From 10 to 11 there will be a social time in charge of Mrs. Strobel's and Mrs. Houston's classes.

The closing hour from 11 to 12 will be known as "The Forward Looking Hour." At this time addresses will be made by representatives from some of the co-operating departments of the church. K. E. Smith will represent the elders, Richard Richards, the deacons and A. W. Bauman the Bible school.

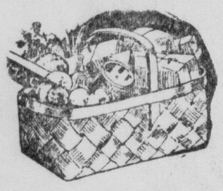

The pastor Rev. Jesse B. Porter will speak on "The Kind of a Church the Pastor Wants."

It is believed that a large congregation will be present at this service.

Ohio Pen's "Bad Men" To Be Put In "Bird Cage"

Eleven Who Escaped To See How Well Other Prisoners Fare

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 30.—The eleven convicts who dashed to a short lived freedom out of the Ohio penitentiary on November 8 will not get a chance to eat their food with their knives.

Neither will they have forks for some little time to come. They will eat their meat and potatoes with spoons.

"The "red shirts," as the prison's "bad men" are called, are to be put in a "bird cage" within a few days, where they can witness the activities of their erstwhile fellow prisoners but take no part in them.

Their cage will be surrounded with a fine meshed screen, through which not even a toothpick may be smuggled.

Their food will be handed them through a window and knives and forks barred, as being tools too practical in effecting an escape.

Heretofore, since the attempted escape, the eleven have been kept in solitary confinement. The newer order is designed as greater punishment than life in solitary cells.

BANDIT PICKS WRONG TIME

DERRY, Pa., Dec. 30.—An armed and masked bandit entered the Pennsylvania ticket office here last night and attempted to hold up Jay Cummins, ticket agent. Cummins was ordered to unlock the safe in the office. A car inspector with other employes approached and the robber fled.

SPUR TO HEROISM

Because he had crawled out on thin ice and recued a playmate who had broken through, little Willie was the centre of a group of admiring men and women.

"Tell us, little boy, how you were brave enough to risk your life to save your friend?" said one of the ladies.

"I had to," was the breathless answer. "He had my skates on."—Life.

GHOST FAILED TO APPEAR

Will an Italian ghost appear before an Englishman, or are Sir Conan Doyle and Sir Oliver Lodge all wrong? These are questions put before Crompton Wood, a member of the British Parliament, who has been recuperating on the island of Ischia, Italy. He and his wife occupied a castle that was feared by the natives as being haunted. None of their servants would remain in the castle and the aged couple were left there alone. An all-night vigil failed to reveal any spirits of the departed, however.

The mounting of a guard at the Bank of England dates from the time of the Gordon riots in 1780, when the bank was attacked by the mob.

Limping Debut

Despite an injury to her ankle, Gwendolyn McCormack, daughter of the singer, requested that her "coming out party" go on as usual. Her brother and mother came from Ireland to attend the lavish debut in a New York hotel.

New Auto Production Record Of 4,500,000 Is Made During Past Year

(International News Service)

DETROIT, Dec. 27.—The greatest production in the history of Detroit's automobile industry has just been experienced, according to a survey made by the Detroit convention and tourist bureau. All previous figures have been materially surpassed.

From January 1 to the expiration of the current year, 3,420,500 automobiles will be produced in Detroit. This does not include trucks. This production represents an estimated retail value of $2,632,250,000.

Production schedules in the industry generally declined materially during the latter months of the year, but the tremendous output of the first half of 1926 more than made up for this reduction.

A healthy pace was maintained throughout December, and producers and the motoring public are attaching unusual importance to the coming national automobile shows. The manufacturers are centering for 1927, and another big year is anticipated.

Auto Industry Grows

Automotive production throughout the country is also showing a satisfactory increase. Detroit is maintaining a new position with slightly more than 75 per cent of the motor cars made in America. Because of record production of approximately 4,000,000 cars and trucks during the first 10 months of this year, a new high aggregate for 1926 of about 4,500,000 units is practically certain.

The most popular car of today is the closed model, and production and sales of this type far exceed others. Very considarable price reductions featured the market during the year and this included all makes and models.

As illustrating the remarkable increase in Detroit's motor car production during the past few years, comparison of the figures compiled by the Detroit convention and tourist bureau 10 years ago with those of the present may be made. In 1916 approximately 942,000 cars were turned out in Detroit at a market value of $665,507,000. This figure today would be surpassed by the production of three Detroit factories alone.

Within 10 years the automotive industry, which has made Detroit the motor capital of the world, has developed from the then considered big enterprise to a gigantic undertaking, showing an increase in volume of production of better than 250 per cent.

World Wants More Cars

The world wants more cars, and this demand is just gaining momentum. Dissatisfaction abroad is leading to a greater demand for American produced automobiles, which means that more than one-half of all cars shipped to foreign countries will be manufactured here. A small per cent increase in sales abroad means a large per centage in production in Detroit.

Export of automobiles and trucks, either completely assembled or in chassis numbered 361,291 in 1925; this was an increase of 60 per cent over the preceding year, and likewise the export of American manufactured cars during 1926 was considerably greater than in 1925.

This year saw the greatest value in automobiles yet placed before the public. Much of the success of 1926 can be attributed to this fact, and as a result, the industry from a financial standpoint is now in the strongest position in its history.

Plans are being worked out for expansion which will increase production through greater capacity in many Detroit plants. The coming year promises to be a period of keenest competition and more high records. Detroit will keep almost 75 per cent of this vast harvest.

"Vamp Each Other And Be Happy" Is Advice Of Chicago Woman Lawyer To Married Folks

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Dec. 30.—The honeymoon is over when the husband cease to try to win his wife and takes her for granted; therefore men should take a post-graduate course in vamping according to Marie Andresen assistant state's attorney.

Miss Andresen, who has investigated hundreds of stranded romances and their causes admonishes men to "Always be your wife's best Beau!"

"Vamp each other and be happy" is her watchword for young married couples.

In an interview to reporters Miss Andresen agreed with Judge William J. Gemmill a prominent divorce jurist who advises wives to outvamp the other woman—or women—and win back their husbands but she believes the system is just as benficial and proper for men.

"If a man maintains the charming courtesy, the extreme solicitude for her comfort and his adoring attitude he'll never lose her love" she said.

"But when he comes home and begins to nag her for petty little faults, the romance is headed for the rocks. And when he seeks sympathy and other women the jig is up.

His interest is diverted elsewhere and his wife generally loses all her regard for him. Only by mutual vamping can marriage endure. Always give 'em a new thrill."

AUTOMOBILE STOLEN FROM LOCAL GARAGE

Samuel Crowther of 520 East Long avenue reported Wednesday that some time the previous night his garage had been entered and his automobile stolen. It is a Ford touring car bearing Pennsylvania license No. 718-144. The windshield is broken at the left corner. The garage from which it was taken is located at 2,104 Hartman street.

AGED MAN HANGS HIMSELF

ERIE, Pa., Dec. 30.—Throwing a roller towel over a hook, then placing his neck in the noose, Daniel Lucey, 76 years old, strangled himself to death in his room in his home. He was in good health and his family is unable to account for the act.

WALTZ WRITTEN ON CUFF

Johann Strauss, the "waltz king," wrote his famous "Blue Danube" on a pair of detachable cuffs and then threw them into the wash. They were rescued by his mother and his music publishers made a fortune from the composition. Strauss wrote so many compositions that he could not recognize all of them.

County Home Folks Enjoy Happy Holiday In Mercer County

(Special To The News)

MERCER, Pa., Dec. 30.—Thanks for the very happy Christmas given the 260 people in their charge at the County home is expressed by this medium on the part of superintendent and Mrs. T. C. White of that institution.

Mrs. J. W. Gaiser of Greenville headed a delegation of Greenville church folks who provided a very exceptional entertainment for the afternoon of that day. In the party were Mrs. Wilfred Hodge of the First Methodist church of that city, Mrs. George Engelbaugh of the Zions Reformed church, Mrs. S. K. Zundel of the Holy Trinity Lutheran, Mrs. N. B. Uber of the Evangelical church, Mrs. Albert Wetzel of the United Presbyterian, Mrs. John Gunter of the First Baptist.

The program was given by the Young Peoples council of Greenville in charge of Miss Katherine Aubel. The Santa Claus was Harold Quay, Miss Helen Bright played entertaining several banjo numbers.

Prothonatory Miss Virginia Lee Davis for her gifts to 15 old ladies at the home; the Brenner Bible class of Farrell for the 50 boxes sent by them and the Fern Leaf club of Greenville and hundreds of other folks over the county who assisted are gratefully thanked by the official and his wife.

DINNER STORIES

The Bam family were spending several weeks at a farm for their summer vacation.

Little Margaret was poking around in the grass one afternoon when suddenly she shrieked out, "Oh, mammy, here's a pretty little green snake."

"Well be careful dear" admonished the fond city mother, "it might be as dangerous as a ripe one."

Down at Camp Taylor in the early days of la guerre a colored outfit, newly arrived was lined up before the clerk for preliminary paper work.

"Name and address," demanded the clerk of one husky recruit.

"Huh?"

"What's your name and address-"

"Lordy, suh" replied the John. "Yo' ought to know. Yo' sent fo' me."

A couple of actors had what is called in the vernacular of their profession act a "dumb act." They owned a flock of educated ducks. Theirs was a good act but bookings were few and far between. Finally there came a period of dullness when the two artists could not secure an engagement at all.

They were laid off for the summer and took refuge in a little house loaned them by a sympathetic friend and did their own housekeeping such as it was. When the fall season opened up, their agent wired them:

Swanson Bros.
Trained Duck Act
Summit N. J.

"Have booked you for a full week, Far Rockaway, opening next Monday."

But this was the melancholy answer which came back collect:

"Impossible to accept your offer. Have eaten the act."

JAPAN'S INDUSTRIES CHOSEN

In its program of increasing domestic production, Japan proposes to give government aid to its leading industries, and the National Products Encouragement Association recently selected ten industrial arts to be recommended. These were iron and steel, dye stuffs, soda ash, shipbuilding, woolen textiles, automobiles, aluminum, artificial fertilizers, machinery and silk textiles. Government officials will consider the recommendations within a short time.

Record Of Death Causes In Mercer Being Compiled

(Special To The News)

MERCER, Pa., Dec. 30.—A very interesting schedule is being drawn up at the present time by Dr. S. J. Dickey county medical director of the deaths that have taken place in Mercer county during the past year.

The list will not be ready for final release until after the close of the year on December 31 but is sufficiently advanced now to show in detail how the grim reaper takes his annual toll.

Perhaps the most outstanding of any of the listed diseases is that of tuberculosis that will show 100 deaths in the county during the past year, a material gain in the ravages of this disease and one that is gaining in number each year.

From 45 years and upwards in age is the failing period of life if the list is any criterion as two-thirds of the deaths are recorded in this zone. Heart disease, cancer, paralytic strokes, pneumonia, flu, all have played havoc with the county population within this period of life.

To date 8 lives have been snuffed out in auto accidents, an outstanding feature of the report. It is reported that five over the age of 90 have died during the year; one decedent reaching the age of 98 years.

SAYS EARTH LIKE GOLF BALL.

That the earth is built on the principle of the old-fashioned metal-cord golf ball is the contention of Dr. E. D. Williamson the scientist who has just concluded a series of investigations into the subject. The metal core of the earth he says is pure iron or an alloy of iron and nickle having a thickness of not less than 4,200 miles. Outside of this is a layer of iron and rock on top of which is strata of rock which in turn is covered by the earth's surface consisting almost entirely of granite.

BUTTERFLY TRAVELS FAR

The Monarch butterfly has been found in the Hawaiian islands, 2,000 miles from the American continent, where the insect was not known prior to the establishment of its food plant, the milkweed, in the islands about 1850.

HORTICULTURAL NOTE

NEW CASTLE TO PLAY FRANKLIN HERE TONIGHT

Locals Hope To Annex Victory

Coach Treadwell To Bring Fast Team To New Castle Tonight

LOCAL LINE-UP IS UNDECIDED

By "BUGS" WALTHER.

With two games already in the bag, the New Castle High team will attempt to add the third to the list tonight at the Senior high gym, when the team tackles the Franklin high quintet in what promises to be one of the best games of the season.

"The game will start at 8 o'clock sharp" said Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner today.

"Franklin high has one of the best teams in the history of the Venango county school and we look for a hard fight for victory." This coming from Coach Bridenbaugh.

The Franklin team will come to New Castle via motor bus early tonight. Advance dope from the Venago county seat would seem to indicate that the Treadwell combination rates high in Northwestern floor circles. Many of the papers in the northwest section of the state are already acclaiming Franklin high as probable winners of the N. W. P. I. A. L. With a veteran crew Coach Treadwell has worked wonders with the Franklinites.

Lineup in Doubt.

The game tonight will mark the initial appearance of a Franklin high basketball team on the local court. New Castle and Franklin battled on the gridiron several years ago at Cascade park but athletic relations were cut off shortly afterward.

Coach Bridenbaugh was a little dubious today on his starting lineup for tonight's game. From all indications Paul Reider and Johnny Johnson will draw the forward jobs, "Baldy" McGrath at center and Tony Ostrosky and Captain Klaber at the guards. Sillman, Franklin, Neyman and Richards may see action at any moment in the battle.

New Castle.		Franklin
Reider	F.	Snyder
Johnson	F.	Miller
McGrath	C.	Yeager
Ostrosky	G.	Rheem
Klaber	G.	Muse

Wampum Indies Take Victory

The Wampum Indies defeated the Inspection Department team of the Shelby Industrial League by a score of 39 to 31 in a game played on the Wampum Opera House floor on Tuesday night. The game was one of the best played in Wampum this season.

Boone was master of the ceremonies from start to finish and caged eight baskets as part of his evening's work, and together with four foul shots scored half the points for the Wampumites. Jim White who started at forward and was later removed in favor of Monaca played a fine game and will make the regulars step some to hold their positions this year.

Ferrucci also kept up his good work at guard and was one of the reasons for the Wampum victory. For Ellwood City the playing of Blandine, Jamison and Boyle was the best.

Next Tuesday night the Wampum Indies will clash with the Wellsville, Ohio team on the opera house floor.

The lineup and summary:

Wampum Indies—		—Inspection
Boone	F.	Bates
White	F.	Boyle
Blythe	C.	Blandine
Grinnen	G.	Jamison
Ferrucci	G.	Kellner

Subs.—Schiek, Monaca.

Field Goals—Boone 8, White 3, Blythe 4, Schiek, Ferrucci, Boyle 3, Blandine 4, Jamison 4, Bates 2.

Fouls—Wampum 5 out of 10, Ellwood 6 out of 12.

Referee—Sturegon.

Buhl Club Team To Play College Passers Saturday

Westminster College Team To Have Game On Home Floor New Year's Night

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Dec. 30.—Christmas recess will end prematurely this Friday for members of the Westminster basketball squad, as Coach John Lawther has asked Graduate Manager McDonald to order the courtmen to return earlier than was planned. A second pre-season game will be played New Year's night on the college floor, the fast Buhl club of Sharon furnishing the opposition. The players will report to Coach Lawther Friday morning in order to be in trim for the game the following evening.

Officials were not altogether enthusiastic over the showing made by the Blue and White players in the Greenville scholastic game two weeks ago. The visitors were decisively beaten, but it was evident that Lawther has a long hard pull confronting him if his first team combination is to fare better than last year's conference team.

None of the players, either veterans or freshmen, have exhibited anything like exceptional ability, so Coach Lawther is still experimenting in an effort to build a team. If one player were exceptional, it would be easy to build a team around him, but since all are on a par; fairly good but nothing outstanding, the problem of developing a team for the first intercollegiate encounter with Adrian college on January 4 is a perplexing one.

Cobb Confers With Lawyer

Former Detroit Star Places All Facts Before His Counsel

(International News Service)

DETROIT, Dec. 30.—Ty Cobb, his eyes flashing the spirit that made him famous on the ball field, was here today to plan the fight he hopes will make organized baseball "swallow the words" that drove him from the diamond. He was accompanied by "Smoky Joe" Wood, former big league pitcher, and E. S. Burke of Cleveland, adviser and friend of Cobb.

The colorful star conferred with J. O. Murfin, prominent Michigan jurist, who will advise him on the legal course, if any, to pursue against those whose charges made him the center of baseball's latest scandal.

Neither Cobb nor Murfin would discuss reported plans for a suit against Frank Navin, president of the Detroit club; Judge Landis, high commissioner of baseball; Ban Johnson, president of the American League, and the league itself.

"I am in the hands of my attorney," Cobb said. "From now on he will direct my course of action."

Cobb said he hasn't the slightest idea what he intends to do. Neither does Judge Murfin, his attorney, so he says.

"I want to know the circumstances in detail before I decide," Murfin said. "When I am thoroughly acquainted with the facts I will make an announcement.

CARDS RELEASE ALAN SOTHORON

Will Not Leave Team As He Will Fill Assistant Coach Berth

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 30.—Alan Sothoron, aged 33, one of the few remaining spitball pitchers, has been released by the St. Louis Cardinals as a player and named as a coach for 1927, succeeding Otto Williams, released.

Sothoron pitched and won a three-hit game from the Pittsburgh Pirates at a critical stage in the 1926 pennant race. He has been in professional baseball 13 years.

"Sothoron is a smart, brainy ballplayer and his knowledge of the game will be invaluable to the team," President Sam Breadon said in making the announcement.

Bill McKechnie of Pittsburgh, recently appointed assistant manager, will be head coach.

Princeton Chess Players Win

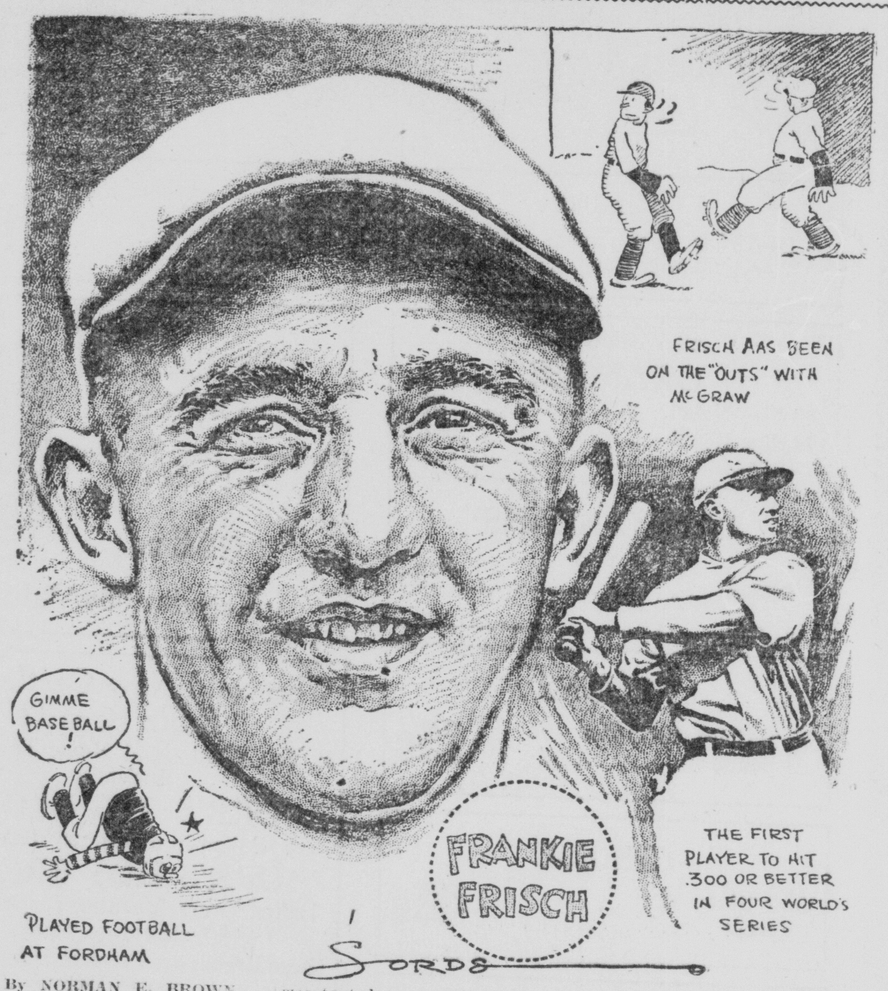

NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—Scoring a clean sweep in their series of four matches against Army, Princeton players yesterday won the championship of the H. Y. P. W. chess league for the first time in 18 years. The Tigers nosed out Harvard for the title by half a point, Yale finishing third and West Point fourth.

L. J. Lafleur, W. M. Spackman, W. G. Findley and S. Emery were the members of the winning team. Spackman alone, however, won all three of his matches in the tournament.

Yale stopped Harvard from capturing the honors when J. A. Sherman of the Eli team defeated B. J. Reines. The Crimson emerged victorious in the match, however, by 2½ to 1½.

WHERE DOES FRISCH STAND?

Is Query Growing Out Of McGraw's Trade Talk

By NORMAN E. BROWN

When the rumor that Rogers Hornsby, Cardinal star, was to be traded to the New York Yankees first bobbed up it was stated in New York circles that McGraw stood ready to hand the Cardinal club his outstanding star — Frank Frisch—$100,000 in cash and two or three other players for Rogers.

The deal, as consummated, sent Frisch and Jimmy Ring, pitcher and former world's series hero, to the Cards for Hornsby. That the Giants also sent a bundle of cash along is generally believed—perhaps twice the $100,000.

Now two major factors enter into the business of deciding a player's value to his club. These are his actual playing ability (considered from all angles) and his drawing powers as a gate attraction.

Considering these things then does the amount given as McGraw's initial offer at least, definitely establish the relative merits of Hornsby and Frisch.

If so the situation is interesting.

When Frisch poined the Giants from Fordham college in 1919 he was touted as one of the greatest baseball prospects ever dug out of the campus nines. And he soon proved that he was a natural born, brilliant, heady ball player.

Stepped Right Into Lineup

McGraw shoved him into 54 games that very year at second base. The following year he played 110 at third. An the next year he played the entire season, alternating between second and third.

It took him two seasons to learn major league pitching but in the campaign of 1921 he hit .341 and has been one of the league's best hitters ever since.

In the four years that the Giants broke into the world's series Frisch joined the list of half a dozen immortals who have hit over .300 in four such classics. He ranks with men like Frank Baker, Eddie Collins and Johnny Evers.

McGraw for several seasons, was outspoken in his admiration for the young man and two years ago let it be known that Frank would some day manage the team. Frisch captained the squad at the time.

But last year McGraw became dissatisfied with Frisch in some way. The breach between the two became generally known. Frisch, at times, was "jogged" for playing indifferent baseball

Frisch wound up the year with a.314 average—the lowest he had compiled since he hit his .300 stride in 1921.

Now what fans are wondering is whether or not the trade "price" was really McGraw's estimate of Frisch's value as against that of Hornsby, of whether the Giant leader was willing to offer the Cardinals most anything to acquire Rogers the Great as a drawing attraction to pit against Babe Ruth.

Hornsby, in addition to being a great infielder, a mighty hitter and brainy ball player, should carry along to the Giant camp the glamor of having led the St. Louis Cardinals to their first league and world pennants. And he will be on hand to manage the Giants when McGraw sees fit to step down. Judging by McGraw's attitude toward Frisch the Fordham Flash was no longer considered a possibility.

1926 Boxing Review — By Feg Murray

Many fine achievements featured the year's major league baseball season, which should not be overlooked in any "Review of 1926," no matter how brief.

Babe Ruth's fine come-back, after a disastrous season in 1925, was one of the high spots of the year, for the veteran slugger not only brought his total home run record up to 356, with 47 new ones, but led both leagues in number of runs and total bases, and batted in second position in the final standings of the American League with the splendid mark of .372.

New batting and pitching champions were crowned in each circuit—Heinie Manush, of Detroit, replacing his team-mate, Harry Heilmann, with a mark of .377; while in the National League, Rogers Hornsby, who had led his league since 1919, gave way to "Bubbles" Hargrave, of Cincinnati, who hit .353.

Ty Cobb featured his last year in baseball by hitting .339, which passed Cap Anson's mark of batting more than .300 twenty times. Ty's twenty-one seasons of better-than-.300 batting were consecutive, too. Ty also had the longest hitting streak of the season, with twenty-one consecutive games in which he batted safely.

The failure of Dazzy Vance, the leading National League pitcher in 1925, to get going until late in the season, provided one of the upsets of the year, but the Brooklyn speedball artist did lead the older circuit in the number of strike-outs, with 140. Ray Kremer, of the Pirates, was the leading National pitcher as far as percentage goes, with a mark of .769, thanks to twenty wins and six losses. George Uhle, of Cleveland, however, won the most games of any major league hurler, turning in twenty-seven victories against eleven defeats for a percentage of .711. Uhle also took part in the most innings of any slab artist, and, with 160 strike-outs, was second only to Lefty Grove of the Athletics, who whiffed 194 to top both leagues. Grove also led the younger circuit in effectiveness, having an earned run average of 2.51.

George Burns made a new major league record for doubles with 64; Walter Johnson started the season by turning in his 400th victory; Ted Lyons, of the White Sox, pitched the only no-hit game in either league; Emil Levson, of Cleveland, won two games from Boston in one afternoon; Harry McCurdy, of the White Sox, made ten consecutive hits; and the Cincinnati Reds completed a triple steal against the Cardinals.

Hazen Cuyler, of the Pirates, led both leagues in stolen bases with 35; Paul Waner, of the Pirates, made 22 triples, more than any other major league player; while Douthit, of the Cards, had the most sacrifice hits, 37.

Feg Murray Says—

Mohammedans deny that two of their number competed as Sikhsday bike-riders.

Scout Quintet Hurls Challenge

The Wampum Boy Scouts midget quintet extends a challenge to any midget team in New Castle or Lawrence county for a game or series of games. The Scouts are from 14 to 16 years of age.

The Scouts opened their season recently at Enon Valley by tasting defeat, but they hope to hit their stride before many more weeks.

The Scouts are out to capture the championship of Lawrence county this year. The following players make up the roster of the team: Scoutmaster Earle Herbert, Manager William Streit, Coach Butler Hennon, Captain George Hildebrand, Paul Herbert, Walter Gaffney, Francis Hennon, Gale Allen, Melvin Caplan, Clyde McKim, Seth Morrow, James McGeorge and Aubrey Reno.

Teams desiring games write to Walter Gaffney, manager, Main street, Wampum, Box 423, Wampum, Pa., or to Paul Herbert.

Risberg Will Get Chance To Tell About It

By GENE HOFFMAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, Dec. 30. — Charles "Swede" Risberg, former shortstop of the Chicago White Sox team, banished with six of his mates from organized baseball in 1920 following exposure of the "framed" world series of the year before, will be given an opportunity to tell what he knows of "crooked baseball," Commissioner K. M. Landis indicated today.

The former "Black Sox" infielder had announced that he had a lot of "inside information" that would crumble still further the tottering pillars of baseball, but charged that "Landis and the big bosses do not want this information."

Risberg pooh-poohed the Cobb-Speaker-Wood-Leonard scandal and ridiculed Commissioner Landis for his handling of the case. He challenged Landis to a showdown, and indicated that if the Commissioner is really interested in "baseball crookedness," he could tell him things that would make the Cobb-Speaker affair look tame.

"But they don't want the facts," said Risberg.

That Landis and "the bosses" do want the facts was indicated today in Commissioner Landis' acceptance of Risberg's challenge. Asked what action he would take concerning Risberg's charges, Landis said: "Of course he will be asked for the information. Anything along that line will be most welcome."

Risberg was quoted in telegraphic dispatches from Rochester, Minn., near where he spends his winters on a farm. He plays baseball at Watertown, South Dakota, during the summer. Risberg said he offered all his information during the grand jury investigation of the 1920 scandal, but that "nobody wanted to hear it."

ALL-STAR TEAM DEFEATS BUHL CLUB 41 TO 29

"Y" Big Five Led By Kraft And Gillium Swamp Sharon Passers

The "Y." Big Five, composed of former high school and college stars, swamped the Buhl Club team of Sharon, 41 to 29, in a fast battle on the Y. M. C. A. court last night.

The "Y." team went into the lead at an early stage and were never headed throughout the game. At half time the score stood 21 to 10, with the locals leading. The locals made 15 out of 22 fouls, a fine record.

The playing of Johnny Kraft and Charles "Horse" Gillium, Grove City College boys, featured the game. Kraft had five baskets and Gillium caged three. Frazier also played a fine game for the locals and caged the ball on three different occasions. Seigle, former A. P. Moore star, of Pittsburgh, and Burnman, former Cleveland Knit player, looked the best for the Sharonites.

The line-up and summary:

"Y." Big Five—		—Buhl Club
Kraft	F.	Kuhner
Frazier	F.	Seigle
Gillium	C.	Ryan
Volesko	G.	Burnman
Coen	G.	Davis

Subs.: Hartman for Frazier, Bevic for Kuhner.

Field goals: Kraft 5, Frazier 3, Gillium 3, Volesko, Hartman, Kuhner, Seigle 5, Burnman, Bevic 4.

Fouls: "Y." Five, 15 out of 22; Buhl Club, 7 out of 16.

Referee: Nolte, Mahoning Valley.

Tunney Willing To Fight But Not Till Matters Are Settled

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor Internat'l News Service

NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—Gene Tunney will sign to defend his heavyweight title only when the final and ultimate challenger is developed and only with the promoter who can deliver the individual in question of a maximum of advantage to all, including himself. The champion made this announcement to the writer today by way of dispelling Humbert J. Fugazy's impression that he intended to sign himself away with Fugazy without observing the formality of hearing the views of Mr. T. Rickard on the matter.

No one unless it was Fugazy seriously credited the idea that a heavyweight champion would sign a contract six months before his fight could take place and with the first promoter who whispered sweet nothings from the off corner of his agile mouth. Mr. Tunney therefore, merely is confining the general belief that he is not addicted to mild insanity.

Rickard Not Barred.

"Of course Rickard is not barred" Tunney stated. "When Tex feels that the time has come to say his say, I'll be ready to listen. It would be absurd to do otherwise for the same reason, I am listening to Fugzay now.

"He has made me a proposition. I have informed him that it appealed to me. But that I hope doesn't constitute acceptance of terms. Why we haven't even determined the identity of the challenger and can't at this early date."

Speaking of challengers and Mr. Tunney permits himself to dally with the fancy from time to time, he professed an abiding desire to meet only the best when the time came. He made no choice among Jack Sharkey, Jack Delaney, Jimmy Maloney and the field in general and intimated that there was none at this immature date.

And from Tunney's general appearance, it might be inferred that he will be ready for the bimmoment. His apparently is not a life of ease and refinement for he informed the writer that he boxed four rounds daily, carefully watched his diet and either went for short runs on the road or otherwise indulged in some form of exercise calculated to preserve his stamina.

He professed ignorance as to his exact weight but declared that it wasn't a pound over 195 if that. I could well believe him. In fact he appeared to be almost as fit as the day he left Stroudsburg for the scene of the Dempsey fight.

High To Play Alumni Friday

Both Boys And Girls Of Senior High Varsity To Meet Former Stars

Tomorrow night at the Senior High gym the girls and boys varsity teams will clash with stars of yester-years.

The preliminary game set for Friday night at 7 o'clock will bring together the Girl's Varsity team and the New Castle High Alumnae team. The Alumnae team will have many of the former floor luminaries in their lineup, including Miss Sally McGoun sensational young forward who established and broke many records during her four years at the local institution.

Coach Bridenbaugh will send his Red and Black tossers against the former graduates and a hot battle is expected. The Alumni will have such well known stars as Ralph Day, Harry Robinson, "Len" Friedman, Walt Sumner, and others.

The boys' game will start immediately following the first game.

Indian Midgets Defeat Tearaways

Indian Midgets defeated the Tearaways, Tuesday afternoon on the Y. M. C. A. floor by a score of 19-11. The Indians started off with a bang and lead throughout the game. The whole Indian team played a good game and for the Tearaways, A. Cohen played well.

The lineup:

Indians		Tearaways
C. Smith	F.	A. Cohen
McBride	F.	Shifman
Mansefield	C.	H. Cohen
N. Uram	G.	Rosenberg
Richards	G.	H. Levine

Subs—Indians, H. Smith, Murphy. Tearaways, Kline, Perelman.

Field goals—C. Smith 2, McBride 2, Mansefield 1, Richards 2, A. Cohen 1, H. Levine 1.

Fouls—Indians 5 out of 13. Tearaways, 6 out of 11.

Referee—Russ Hanna. Scorekeeper Norm Eakin.

THIRD LEAGUE TALK IS BUNK

Not Enough Skilled Players To Fill Demands Says McGraw

NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—Contending that there are not enough skilled players now to satisfy the demands of the two big leagues, Manager John McGraw of the New York Giants, considers talk of a third major circuit "foolish." He estimated that $20,000,000 capital would be necessary to launch such a venture.

He placed the cost of playing plants in eight cities at $12,000,000 the office expenses of the teams at another million, and cost of players at seven millions.

He said he had not heard of any prominent men who were sufficiently interested in baseball to become the "angels" in a third circuit.

Average Reign Of Grid Coach Not Very Long

NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—College undertakers are kept busy burying football coaches, A. A. Stagg, veteran coach of the University of Chicago, told the annual convention of the American Football Coaches' Association here. Stagg's report as chairman of a committee on "stabilizing our profession of football coaching" was read by Hugo Bezdek, Penn State coach, in the absence of the Chicago mentor, who is in Florida.

A survey based on a study of 120 colleges and universities, said the report, showed that for the eight years following the World War, 379 different football coaches were employed, an average of 3 1-7 coaches to a college, with the average life of a coach in these colleges only 2 1-5 years. Sixteen colleges retained their coaches throughout the eight-year period, 12 kept the same man for seven years, nine for six years, 18 for five years, 31 for four years, 51 for three years, 92 for two years and 140 for one year.

Stagg accounted for the mortality in coaches by the demand of alumni and students to have winning teams, the form of organization governing athletics in many colleges and criticism by newspaper writers.

The need for greater improvement, the report suggested, lies in education of alumni and the general public and students to regard intercollegiate football contests as a game in which honor and nothing else is at stake.

SHERMAN, Tex., Dec. 30.—The Bellefonte Academy reserve team fired with a determination to share national spotlight with the Cougar regulars, walloped a team of local all-stars on Austin College field here Wednesday, 21 to 0. The Bellefonte scrubs were crossed up by the local promoter when he started a team of college and former high school stars rather than the local high school eleven, as had been the previous agreement.

SPORTS DONE BROWN

SPORTS DONE BROWN

Mr. James Maloney, boasting the title of "Boston Strong Boy," of immortal fame, stands a good chance of fighting his way into big money before apother twelve months roll around.

Following his victory over Harry Persgor, Swedish heavyweight, Maloney was offered a contract to fight three opponents for Tex Rickard, demon fight promoter and heavyweight champion picker, and accepted.

These three opponents to be tossed into the ring for Maloney are now expected to be Jack Sharkey, Jack Delaney and Jack Dempsey. If Jim can beat three Jacks he ought to win a big pot. However, those three boys, in fighting trim and free from poisoned milk, ought to be plenty for a summer's workout.

Maloney should beat Sharkey rather handily, judging by the former's latest showing. But Jack Dalaney is a tough customer. And Jack Dempsey appeared to be, up to his bout with Gene Tunney, and there are those that still think he can teach all the other boys how to shoot for the button and ring the bell.

* * * *

Judge Landis couldn't force Dutch Leonard to travel from California to Chicago to face Cobb and Speaker and give these two men a fair chance to refute his charges. But is there anything to keep Landis from taking Speaker and Cobb to California?

Rogers Hornsby was acquired from the Cardinals by the New York Giants mainly to provide the Giants with an attraction to neutralize the popularity of Babe Ruth, Yankee star.

And it can be said now that Hornsby's departure from the Cardinals, if not his presence in the Giant payroll, will hit the exchequer of the Yankee team before the regular baseball season opens.

Here's how:

Before the last cheers of the world's series crowds had died away Business Manager Barrow, of the Yankees, arranged with the St. Louis Cardinals for a series of exhibition games to be played by the two clubs on a barnstorming trip northward together from the spring training quarters of the clubs in Florida. The games were booked and all arrangements made for the trip—including orders for the posters to be passed along in advance of the games.

Now Babe Ruth will have to carry the load. The fact that the Cardinals are the world's champions will still make the team a big drawing card. But Hornsby was a big attraction, individually, on the club and interest in him would have helped swell the attendance. The Giants will get the "gate" that Hornsby would have drawn for the Cardinals—and the net receipts from the Cardinal-Yankee games probably will show the absence of Hornsby from the two-act circus.

PETERS ADVENTURES IN ANIMAL LAND

By Florence Smith Vincent

THREE BLIND MICE

"Three blind Mice," replied Snoozer, solemnly.

"Three blind Mice," repeated Peter, puzzled. But Puss Cat spat in scorn.

"Three blind Mice, indeed, have you taken leave of your senses, Snoozer, that you should warn me of them? What care I for Mice with the keenest eyesight, and as for blind ones—they should make for me a meal too easily gotten to be truly enjoyed."

But the little dog was quite undisturbed.

"Don't be too sure of yourself, Mistress Puss. These Mice I mean are no ordinary Mice. They have no tails."

"No tails," squalled the Cat, "whoever heard of such a thing? What became of them?"

"They were cut off by a carving knife," yelled the little dog, and, suddenly, two tears ran down Snoozer's nose and splashed upon the ground. Poor things, poor things, blind and without tails! Could anything be worse?" Pussy Cat growled.

"I've no sympathy to waste on Mice!" she declared. "But just for curiosity's sake I would be glad to know who cut off their tails with a carving knife."

"A farmer's wife!" Snoozer jumped to his feet and came closer to Puss-Cat. "And I advise you to listen to me, for you've no time to lose. Those three Mice are after you. Creeping, crawling through the shadows they will steal upon you."

"Mercy. You give me the creeps, Snoozer. But 'tis this way you tell it! Let the three blind ones come if they dare. They will not return. Why should I, the mighty mouser, dread my helpless victims?" Puss-Cat licked her chops and rolled a wicked eye. But the little dog shook his head. He was not laughing now.

PUSS CAT WAS MAKING THE BIG FLY

"Conceited Puss!" cried he. "But don't say I did not warn you. Mice! three Mice! three blind Mice. Three blind Mice without any tails! They will put a bell about your neck before the dawn arises!"

"A bell about my neck?" Puss-Cat was startled. The she curled up her lip and looked at Peter.

"What would they do that for?" asked she. Peter thought a moment.

"Perhaps, not having eyes to see you, a bell around your neck would warn them of your coming."

"Hm. I never thought of that!" Puss-Cat sat down suddenly. "Why, it would ruin me! My reputation would be gone! My living taken from me! Snoozer, oh Snoozer, you are clever. Tell me what to do."

SCHOOL TEACHER, 60, PASSES EXAMINATION FOR LAW PRACTICE

NEW PHILADELPHIA, O., Dec. 30.—Lewis A. Sigrist, 60 years old, of Dundee, O., a retired school teacher, who last spring declined re-appointment as an instructor in the McKinley high school, Canton, has passed the state bar examinations with honors, it was announced.

Sigrist has burned the midnight oil for several years to realize a life-long ambition to become a lawyer. George A. Beers, superintendent of the Mineral City schools the last nine years, also passed the examination.

PHILADELPHIA AUTOS KILL 319 FOR YEAR; SETTING HIGH RECORD

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 30.—Use of the automobile as a "death weapon" proved its effectiveness in Philadelphia during 1926 when a new high record was reached in deaths resulting from automobile accidents on the city's highways, which exacted a toll of 319 lives. Of this number, 117 were children under 15.

Fourteen of the deaths were over the Christmas week-end.

ASKS DIVORCE, SUES GIRL FOR $25,000

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, O., Dec. 30.—Mrs. Andrew Balek, wife of a wealthy Flushing automobile dealer has sued for divorce on cruelty grounds and at the same time brought suit for $25,000 against Miss Ethel Gross of Bellaire, whom she charges with stealing the love of her husband. Her petition alleges her husband makes $10,000 per year.

ATTORNEY WHO GAVE BOOTLEGGER'S BAIL HAS TO PAY $3,000

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, O., Dec. 30.—Ralph B. Cohen, an attorney of Steubenville, Tuesday paid the largest bond forfeiture in the history of Belmont county. Cohen went on a bond of $3,000 to effect the release of his client, Sam Horn, indicted for the manufacture of moonshine at Brookside.

Horn failed to appear when indicted and judgment by default was granted Prosecutor H. W. Mitchell in a suit against Cohen.

LATE IN 1861, FLAG-OFFICER ANDREW H. FOOTE, U. S. N., WHO HAD BEEN IN CHARGE OF THE BROOKLYN NAVY YARD, WAS GIVEN COMMAND OF THE FEDERAL GUNBOAT FLOTILLA ON THE UPPER MISSISSIPPI AND OHIO AND AT ONCE BEGAN OPERATIONS TO OPEN NAVIGATION OF THE INLAND RIVERS.

HEAVY GUNS THROWING GREAT PROJECTILES WERE NEEDED TO BOMBARD THE STRONG SHORE FORTIFICATIONS AND FOR THIS PURPOSE THE NORTH DESIGNED FLOATING MORTAR BATTERIES. THESE WERE BUILT AT THE UPPER FERRY, ST. LOUIS, AND WERE OF MUCH SERVICE TO THE UNION FLEET AT ISLAND NUMBER TEN ON THE MISSISSIPPI.

MOUND CITY, ILLINOIS, ON THE OHIO, A SHORT DISTANCE ABOVE CAIRO, WAS SELECTED AS A BASE FOR THE RIVER FLOTILLA AND HERE A COMPLETE NAVY YARD WAS ESTABLISHED WHERE THE VESSELS COULD BE FITTED OUT OR REPAIRED.

THERE WERE A NUMBER OF SAILORS OF THE REGULAR UNITED STATES NAVY ON THE RIVER GUNBOATS, BUT FOR THE MOST PART THE CREWS WERE MADE UP OF RECRUITS FROM THE INLAND STATES. ALTHOUGH NAVAL LIFE WAS NEW TO THEM, THESE "FRESHWATER" SAILORS WERE DESTINED TO TAKE AN IMPORTANT PART IN THE WAR.

AN ORDINANCE

Locating, establishing and ordaining a public street from the center line of Mercer Street to the center line of Wilmington Avenue, as an extension of Park Avenue, fixing the width and grade thereof and providing for the opening of the said street and for the assessment and payment of the damages and benefits resulting from the locating and opening of the said street at the grade established.

SECTION 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the Council of the City of New Castle, Pennsylvania, that a public street from Mercer Street to Wilmington Avenue be and the same is hereby located, established and ordained, the center line of which shall be as follows:—Beginning at the intersection of the center line of Mercer Street with the center line of Park Avenue, being the Western end of Park Avenue, as now ordained; thence South 88° 41 3-4' West, 404.13 feet to the center line of Jefferson Street; thence South 88° 41 3-4' West, 163.62 feet to the center line of Wilmington Avenue; said street shall be 50 feet in width throughout, being 25 feet on each side of the said center line, as shown by the plan thereof on file in the City Engineer's Office, and shall be known and designated as Park Avenue.

SECTION 2. That the grade of the said street is fixed and established as follows, to-wit:—Beginning at the intersection of the center line of Park Avenue with the West line of Mercer Street at an elevation of 921.45 feet; thence descend at 4.225% for 73.13 feet to the East line of Jefferson Street at an elevation of 907.12 feet; thence level for 80 feet; thence descend at 1.02% for 90.02 feet to the East side of Wilmington Avenue, at an elevation of 906.2 feet.

SECTION 3. That the said street shall be and is hereby opened for its full width, as herein ordained and established and at the grade fixed.

SECTION 4. The costs and expenses for the locating, establishing and opening of said street at the grade herein fixed and for the payment of damages incident thereto, shall be assessed against the abutting property owners according to benefits as provided by law. When the same are hereby assessed against the said properties and the said assessments are appropriated to the payment of the said improvement which is to be made, done and paid for in the manner set forth, and subject to the provisions of the "general improvement ordinance" of the said City approved August 11, A. D. 1896 and its supplements and amendments and other ordinances of the said City and Acts of Assembly relating to such improvements and any portion of the said costs and expenses to be paid by the said City shall be paid from money to be approved by Council for that purpose.

I, Cordelia Zeigler Jones, City Clerk, do hereby certify that the above and foregoing ordinance has been regularly introduced and is now pending in the council of the city of New Castle, Pa. In witness whereof, I hereunto set my hand and affix the seal of the city, this 30th day of December, 1926.

AN ORDINANCE

Ordaining, locating, establishing and opening a public street in the First and Second Wards of the City of New Castle, between Blaine Street and Jefferson Street, as a part and extension of Boyles Avenue, and fixing the grade thereof.

WHEREAS, Boyles Avenue, in the First and Second Wards, between Blaine Street and Jefferson Street, has heretofore been dedicated by the owners thereof to public use as a public street and highway.

SECTION 1. Therefore, be it ordained and enacted by the Council of the City of New Castle, Pennsylvania, that a public street be and the same is hereby located, established and ordained, the center line of which shall be as follows, to-wit: Beginning at the intersection of the center line of Boyles Avenue and Blaine Street (as Blaine Street is established North of Boyles Avenue) at the West end of Boyles Avenue as now ordained; thence South 88° 41¾' West, 285 feet to the center line of Young Street; thence South 88° 41¾' West, 295.25 feet to the center line of Mercer Street; thence South 88° 41¾' West, 404.49 feet to the center line of Jefferson Street, said street shall be 60 feet in width throughout, being 30 feet on each side of the above described center line.

SECTION 2. That the grade of the said street shall be as follows, to-wit: Beginning at the intersection of the center line of Boyles Avenue with the west line of Blaine Street at an elevation of 950.0 feet; thence descend at 1.06% for 240 feet to the center line of Young Street at an elevation of 922.46 feet; thence level for 40 feet; thence descend at 1.06% for 230.25 feet to the east line of Mercer Street at an elevation of 920.0 feet; thence level for 50 feet; thence descend at 2.57% for 329.49 feet to the east line of Jefferson Street at an elevation of 911.27 feet.

SECTION 3. That the said street, as located, established and ordained, shall be opened throughout its whole length at the grade established thereon at the expense of the abutting property owners according to benefits, and shall be known as "Boyles Avenue."

SECTION 4. The costs and expenses for the locating, establishing and opening of said street at the grade herein fixed and for the payment of damages incident thereto, shall be assessed against the abutting property owners according to benefits as provided by law. When the same are hereby assessed against the said properties and the said assessments are appropriated to the payment of the said improvement which is to be made, done and paid for in the manner set forth, and subject to the provisions of the "general improvement ordinance" of the said City approved August 11, A. D., 1896 and its supplements and amendments and other ordinances of the said City and Acts of Assembly relating to such improvements and any portion of the said costs and expenses to be paid by the said City shall be paid from money to be approved by Council for that purpose.

I, Cordelia Zeigler Jones, City Clerk, do hereby certify that the above and foregoing ordinance has been regularly introduced and is now pending in the council of the city of New Castle, Pa.

In witness whereof, I hereunto set my hand and affix the seal of the city, this 30th day of December, 1926.

Iron And Steel Review For Week

Outlook For New Year In Industry Is Reported As Excellent

(Special To The News)

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 30—As 1926 ends the steel industry is less active than in the final week of 1925 so far as new business is concerned. Production also is less, indications being that the December total of steel ingots will be not far from 3,400,000 tons as against 3,970,000 tons in December one year ago. Last year the production curve was moving upward, while the present trend is downward, an 88 per cent operation in October, 80 per cent in November and a probable 73 per cent in December.

However, in view of the well maintained rate of Steel Corporation output this month, there being only the suspension of Christmas Day and a few hours on Friday, the year's steel ingot production promises to be above rather than under 47,000,000 tons, against 44,010,000 tons in 1925. While no marked increase in steel output is looked for in January, the possibilities of the coal situation after April 1 will tend to the maintenance of the present rate, even though there be some stocking of ingots for a time. Some steel producers estimate their December orders at substantially the total of November, railroad buying this month making up for some falling off in other lines.

Chicago is still reporting large inquiry as well as actual orders for track supplies, and the week's scattered rail buying at Chicago amounted to 15,000 tons. Rail sales and inquiries in Ohio were 8,500 tons, besides which is a considerable tonnage of track supplies for the new Chesapeake & Hocking Valley extension.

The feature of the week in pig iron was the closing of contracts for 38,000 tons for the Standard Sanitary Mfg. Co., 20,000 tons in the Pittsburgh market and 18,000 tons in Southern Ohio. The Valley price in these transactions was $18.50 for No. 2 and the Louisville, Ky. price $21.90. Otherwise the pig iron market is uneventful, the Eastern situation still giving evidence of a more than ample supply of merchant iron.

Imports of iron and steel products into the United States in the first 11 months of 1926—1,035,531 gross tons, were the largest since 1903. Pig iron, with 430,819 tons, accounted for nearly 42 per cent, and scrap was an additional 8 per cent, rolled and finished steel, 363,430 tons (about 210,000 tons to Dec. 1 last year) represented 35 per cent; cast iron pipe, 72,779 tons, was 7 per cent of the total.

Major General Price Named Chief Marshal Of Fisher Ceremony

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Pa., Dec. 30.—Major General William G. Price, Chester, Pa., will be chief marshal of the inaugural parade here when John S. Fisher is inducted as governor of Pennsylvania January 18, the committee in charge announced today.

N.Y. STOCKS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—Neither the industrial nor the railroad stocks were able to retain all the ground gained in Wednesday's final spurt. After displaying considerable strength at the opening today, the industrial stocks were forced downward by the renewal of the selling pressure which has been in evidence most of the week. Oil companies with Mexican properties displayed some unsettlement as a result of President Calles' refusal to postpone the operation of the new petroleum law.

As in the previous sessions of the week, the market slowed up at the lower price levels, and the volume of stock offered at the bottom of the declines was comparatively small. U. S. Steel and General Motors lost a point each, while high priced specialties, after declining about 2 points, rallied to give further ground.

Call loan renewal rate was unchanged at 5½ per cent, and the prospects for a year-end squeeze in the money market appeared remoted.

Atchison's advance to 168½ was the feature of the rails, in which as a group, the volume of trading was compartively small. Only minor price changes occurred in the rank and file of active industrial and specialty stocks.

Democrats Plan To Renew Fight On Tax Slashing

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30. — Asserting that the federal government will collect a half billion dollars more from taxpayers during the present fiscal year than is needed to run the government, Rep. Oldfield of Arkansas, the Democratic whip, today announced that the Democratic drive for tax reduction legislation will be renewed next week.

Circulation of a petition asking discharge of the house ways and means committee, which refused to take up tax reduction bills, will be started, he said. Many Republicans, Oldfield claimed, have indicated they would sign the request.

The return of $175,000,000 of illegally collected taxes emphasizes the fact that the government is collecting too much from taxpayers all down the line, Oldfield said.

Patents Are Granted To Many Inventors In This District

By GEORGE H. MANNING,
(Washington Correspondent of The New Castle News)

Washington, D. C., Dec. 30.—Thomas F. Buck of New Castle has just been granted a patent by the United States patent office on his invention of an insulated bumper for automobiles.

Buck's patent covers a new method of bracketing the bumper bar on a vehicle and of fastening insulating material behind the bar. He made application for the patent on August 19, 1925.

Other patents just granted by the Patent office include:

A chimney and smokestack ventilator, patented by Austin H. Campbell of Butler.

A grinding and polishing table for glass factories, patented jointly by Frank E. Troutman and Charles H. Christie, both of Butler.

A method and apparatus for forming sheet glass, patented by Harold M. Black of Butler, assignor to the Hartford-Empire company of Hartford, Conn.

Methods and apparatus for forming sheet glass, (two patents) by George E. Howard of Butler, assignor to the Hartford-Empire company.

A glass-polishing apparatus, patented by Charles H. Christie of Butler.

A wire-straightener, patented by Albert C. Belles of Beaver Falls, Pa., assignor to the Standard Guage Steel Co., of Beaver Falls.

A device for dispensing seat covers, patented by Attilio Maroni of Beaver Falls.

A liquid-dispensing apparatus, patented by George W. MacKenzie of Beaver, Pa. Also a liquid measuring apparatus, the latter patent having been assigned to John R. Foster of Rochester, Pa.

A glareshield for automobiles, patented by Paul A. Perman of West Winfield, Pa., assignor of forty per cent of the patent rights in the invention to Frank Sepich of West Winfield.

The Beaver Falls Art Tile company of Beaver Falls has registered its trade-mark "Nubian" with the United States Patent office for use in connection with tiles for walls, floors, ceilings, fireplaces and as trim for buildings. The company has had this trade-mark in use since March, 1925.

NORMAL EDUCATOR APPROACHING CENTURY MARK GETS DEGREE

EDINBORO, Pa., Dec. 30.—William D. Woodfrin, A. M., Ph. D., D. D., president of the College of Divine Metaphysics, St. Louis, under date of November 29, 1926, has sent J. A. Cooper an honorary degree of Ph. D., for superior scholarship and extensive experience in training and educating teachers. As "Doctor of Philosophy" the wisdor of his advanced age is still sought daily by the younger generation.

Prof. Cooper now in his ninety-third year, is justly proud of the honors conferred, and is exhibiting his new sheep-skin with as much pleasure as he expressed when he received his first one from Harvard University many years ago. He is still interested in boys and girls, in schools and good books, and active in their interest to an extent remarkable for one so well past the allotted span of life.

Gardner

Our village folks were quite surprised on Sunday morning to see a steady stream of automobiles passing along the ash lane. This was because six telegraph poles had fallen across the cement road in front of the County Home and on up the hill, making the road impassible. Workmen were busy all day Sunday and all Sunday night trying to repair the damage to both telephone and telegraph lines.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sherger entertained Mr. and Mrs. John Sherger and daughter Miss Mary, all of Gardner, at dinner on Christmas day.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Benson of Gardner had a [illegible] all their folks on Christmas Eve. Those present were Mrs. Benson's sister, and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Phillips of New Wilmington Junction, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Benson, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gray, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Benson, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Johnson and daughter Ruth, Mr. and Mrs. John Benson, Carl and Selma Benson.

Mr. and Mrs. William Zehner entertained Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wilkison of New Castle at Christmas dinner.

Mrs. Fanny Wood of Grimes street ate Christmas dinner at the home of her daughter Mrs. Richard Williams in Gardner.

Mrs. T. J. Robison of Portersville is staying a few days at the home of her son L. A. Robison of Gardner.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Zorens of Gardner report the birth of a son in the Shenango Valley hospital last Thursday. The boy has been named Charles Wesley.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sherger and daughter, Miss Mary, attended the funeral of Mrs. Sherger's niece Mrs. Edna Springer, on Monday.

George Comstock of Grove City was the guest of his parents Mr. and Mrs. Comstock of Gardner on Christmas day.

Honorable S. L. Cheeseman and Mrs. Cheeseman of Slippery Rock were calling on their relatives in Gardner last Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Robb, and children, of Gardner went to Butler, Pa., very early on Christmas morning to spend the day at the home of Mr. Robb's parents and Sunday with other relatives and bringing Master Kenneth home with them Sunday night.

Florence Schumaker of Gardner left home last Friday morning for the home of her brother L. J. Schumaker and family of Philadelphia.

The children of our school were pleased to receive candy and oranges last Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. John J. King entertained all of their family at dinner on Christmas day. Mr. and Mrs. Ripper of Evans City, Mr. and Mrs. Milliken and daughter Betty Jean of New Castle, Mr. and Mrs. Howard King, Mr. and Mrs. D. Y. Gill, and two sons, and Miss Ruth, Russell and Ernest all of Shenango.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Kennedy of Gardner ate Christmas dinner at the home of Mrs. Kennedy's brother, J. W. Swogger and family of Ellwood City.

Mrs. William Zehner and daughters Misses Florence and Isabel of the New Castle-Ellwood highway were callers at the Kennedy home on Tuesday.

Miss Bernice Bartlett of Oak street in New Castle was the guest of Miss Mary Sherger last Sunday.

Miss Anna Pasterak of Jefferson street is spending a week with friends in Gardner.

Mrs. George Nye of Gardner went to the home of her son Raymond Nye of Wurtemburg last Sunday and will stay a week with her daughter Mrs. Ira Alborn of Fombel stop.

Misses Mildred and Carrie Gibbons called on friends in Gardner last Sunday as they were on their way to the service at the County Home where they assisted very greatly with the music.

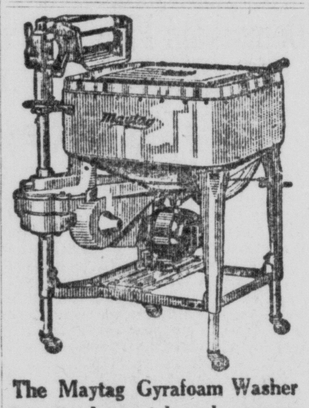

Miss Marie Pasterak of Jefferson street and her cousin Miss Anna Pasterak of Terrace avenue called on friends in Gardner last Sunday.

Francis Swogger of Wampum spent Wednesday with his sister Mrs. Mildred Kennedy of Gardner.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Locke of Gardner ate Christmas dinner at the home of their daughter Mrs. Charles McCoy in Youngstown and on Wednesday morning a message came that Mr. and Mrs. McCoy and son Dale were riding in an automobile on Tuesday evening when the car skidded and overturned and all three occupants were hurt. Mr. McCoy perhaps the one most seriously.

Mr. and Mrs. Laird and daughter of Ellwood City came to Gardner on Christmas morning to spend the day with Mrs. Laird's sister, Mrs. John Clapper and family.

JUDGE SEALS HOTEL, CAPTURES CONTENTS, AFTER NIGHT'S ROW

ALTOONA, Pa., Dec. 30.—Judge Baldridge has issued an injunction restraining Harry Hart, proprietor and the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, owner of the Brant house, this city, from further operation of the hotel and directing the sheriff to seize the contents of the building and padlock the doors pending the outcome of the suit instituted by the district attorney.

This action was precipitated by an assault on a clerk at the hotel by a number of guests the night of December 19. An entire theatrical troupe staying at the hotel is held for the hearing.
